

Milliken Asks $1.737 Billion Budget Plan

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken recommended today a $1.737 billion general fund budget for 1970-71, saying his figures reflected a sagging economy and anticipated strikes in the auto industry this fall.

The proposals marked a $197.1 million increase over current spending, with $35 million designated for new programs.

But the increase served notice of an economic slump, totaling only 12.8 per cent more than this year's budget, compared with an average 19 per cent increase over the last five years. More than 52 per cent — $898.4 million — of Milliken's budget would go to education, $334 million for welfare and $208.8 million for mental health.

Lawmakers Warned
Milliken warned lawmakers that his general fund budget faced tightening to the point of "austerity," however, if they failed to raise $143 million more revenue in this, an election year.

Budget Director Glenn S. Allen Jr. said such a failure would eliminate a budgeted $17.6 million surplus and could throw the state $125 million in debt.

But Milliken said before that happened he would have no alternative but to submit to the legislature a formal austerity budget.

Constitution Cited
"Under the State Constitution, spending in any given year may not exceed available revenues and accumulated surplus," Milliken noted. "In the proposed budget, existing resources are $143 million less than proposed expenditures."

Without increases, the governor said, the state would have to cut funds from such programs as school aid, university and community college grants and payments to senior citizens and veterans — programs which he said account for 80 per cent of state expenditures.

No Election References
Milliken did not refer directly to the fall elections, in which most lawmakers hope to regain their seats, but said: "I doubt if this legislature seriously intends to reduce current levels of benefit."

The governor again called for passage of revenue bills spelled out in his earlier State of the State message. They included a 4-cent hike in the 7-cent-a-pack cigarette tax, closing so-called "loopholes" in the sales and use tax exemption rolls and partial elimination of the property tax credit against the income tax.

Milliken also repeated his opposition to any income tax increase this year, saying his other proposals are "responsible and square with the realities of the situation" — another reference to the upcoming elections. Allen and the governor both noted consideration of national and state economic indicators.

Slump Predicted
"We hope the worst (slump) will come between now and sometime in the fall," Allen said. "But that depends on when some of the major strikes that are in the offing will be over."

"We are assuming a strike of some major proportions against one of 'The Big Three' automobile manufacturers, he said. "If it doesn't occur, revenue estimates would be up," he added. "And the degree to which the legislature spends more or less and the Congress gives (us) more or less could spell a very different outlook for the state."

Milliken's general fund proposals represent slightly under half the state's spending plans for the fiscal year beginning July 1. The total operating budget, which includes revenue from federal grants and taxes earmarked for specific purposes — over which the state has no control — totals some $3.5 billion.

Budget Highlights
Here are some highlights of Milliken's budget recommendations:

—Higher education: $366 million proposed, slashing $145 million from agency requests, but adding $57 million to current fiscal year spending; Michigan State University, including Oakland, to receive $82.3 million;

University of Michigan, $82 million; Wayne State University, $49.9 million.

—Social services: $334 million, including $16.7 million for updating standards in the welfare grant programs. Allen said the funds would mean a 20 per cent increase in the basic welfare allowance per family, as dictated by federal requirements. Allen noted an impending attempt also to cut Medicaid costs, saying "We've got to tighten this thing down even if it means changing the contract with Blue Shield," the intermediary between the state and doctors participating in the program.

No Strings Attached
—Detroit: $5 million, in a no-strings-attached grant which Milliken said he hoped might become a "new concept in state government" that would help beleaguered urban areas. Other communities would share in some $4.2 million for an earmarked portion of sales tax increase if the exemption package were enacted.

—Housing: $4 million, with $300,000 of federal funds, for a program that includes land acquisition and an attempt to "offset the high cost of urban land so that full land cost will not be reflected in mortgage payments."

Crime Control
—Crime control: $1.8 million in state money and $2.6 million from the federal government to expand current police officers training programs, expand criminal laboratory services, reduce a backlog of criminal cases in the Detroit area and start construction of a new building to train police officers.

—Environmental quality: $7.1 million, $6 million of which is earmarked for interest payments on that part of a $432 million bond issue for which bonds have now or soon will be sold.

—Mass transportation: $2.5 million, compared with $150,000 this year, for metropolitan public transportation; primarily for grants to assist regional transportation authorities in financial innovative transit projects.

Traffic Safety
—Traffic safety: $3.2 million in state money and $400,000 in federal funds, to be used in part for expanding the State Police Checklane System and retesting drivers upon license renewal.

—Drug abuse control: $842,000 in state money, along with $600,-

Top Budget Proposal
The largest budget proposal is for Michigan State and Oakland University, listed together at $82.3 million. MSU sought $109.9 million. The University of Michigan, which asked $96.2 million, is estimated at $82 million. Then comes Wayne State, $49.9 million; Western Michigan, $25.9 million; and Eastern Michigan, $20 million.

41 Schools Covered
The higher education budget covers 41 schools, including 29 community colleges. Of the $57 million in increased spending, nearly $40 million would come from the general fund. The rest would come from "institutional sources."

The proposed increases include $47 million for colleges and universities, some $10 million for operating community colleges.

Reasons Listed
Most of this money, Milliken said, is needed "just to meet salary, price, enrollment and new facility requirements."

Some $4.7 million is proposed for a variety of new programs. Capital outlay is pegged at $33.4 million, reflecting "a slackening of 1969-70 appropriations. All other listed schools were proposed for increases.

Noting that Michigan schools already provide some form of higher education to 323,000 students, the governor said: "The demand for higher education opportunities is expected to grow at over 28,000 students per year for the next few years. Such growth in the face of limited resources will require that institutional trustees, administrators and faculty increase their efforts to improve efficiency and the level of degree and certificate output."

Funds for MSU and Michigan were proposed at a level of roughly $10 million each above 1969-70 appropriations. Wayne State would be up $4 million.

$50 Million Okayed
The community colleges sought a total of $84.8 million and were earmarked for $50 million.

Ferris State College and Lake Superior State College were listed for less money than in the —Central Michigan University, $14.7 million.

—Michigan Technological University, $11.6 million.

—Northern Michigan University, $8.8 million.

—Grand Valley State College, $4.5 million.

—Saginaw Valley College, $2.73 million.

—Lake Superior State College, $2.72 million.

—Institute of Gerontology, $270,310.

—Kalamazoo State Hospital, $20,000.

The capital outlay budget was proposed at $33.4 million.

Lovell Claims Apollo 13 Trip Will Be Last

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — James A. Lovell Jr., whose 24 days in space are the world's record, says he'll hang up his space helmet after he commands the Apollo 13 moon-landing mission in April.

"There are a lot of people standing in line for flights," said the 40-year-old Navy captain who will be making his fourth trip into space. "I've had more than my share. So, I'll step aside after this one."

James A. Lovell

Lovell made the disclosure at an impromptu news conference Wednesday after he and civilian astronaut Fred W. Haise Jr. completed a three-hour session rehearsing their moon-walking chores.

Haise, a rookie spaceman, said, "I'm looking forward to this mission. I've invested a lot of time and training and I'd like to make more flights."

Riding with Lovell and Haise when they blast off from Cape Kennedy April 11 will be another rookie, Navy Lt. Cmdr. Thomas K. Mattingly II.

Lovell and Haise are to attempt a difficult landing in rugged lunar highlands north of the crater Fra Mauro. Scientists believe there are ancient rocks from deep beneath the surface in this area and that they might reveal much about the early history of the moon.

Lovell previously spent 14 days in space with Frank Borman on Gemini 7, four days with Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. on Gemini 12 and six days with Borman and William A. Anders on the Apollo 8 moon-orbit journey. Apollo 13 is to last 10 days, which would give Lovell a total of more than a month in space.

Lawmakers Cautious On Parochial Vote

LANSING (AP) — Michigan legislators who voted for parochial aid are making sure that the issue — and not their own political careers — is what goes out on a limb where a court challenge may see it off.

The House met today at 2 p. m.

The House Wednesday gave a strong, 95-10 approval for an amendment to the nearly $1-billion school aid bill that serves to bottle up a $22 million parochial section until the Michigan Supreme Court reviews its constitutionality.

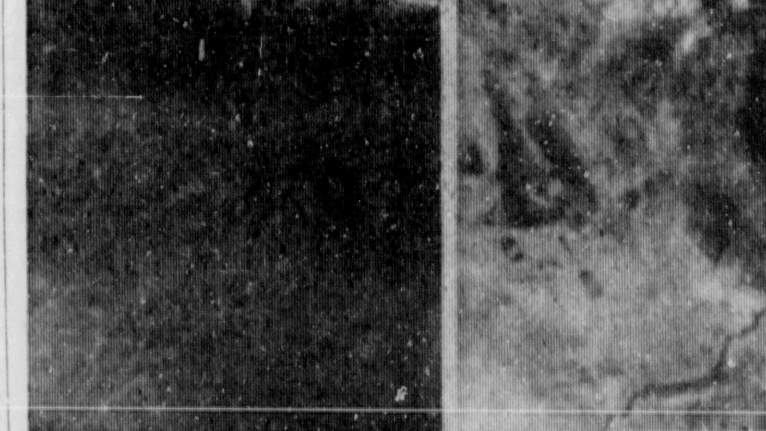

Proposed by Rep. William Balenger, R-Ovid, the amendment reaffirms Senate action stating the Legislature's "intent that an advisory opinion upon the constitutionality of Chapter 2 (parochial) be sought from the Supreme Court after it has been enacted into law but before its effective date."

The revised version, which must be ratified by the Senate when it reviews House action on the bill, adds a second declaration that no parochial aid be released until the opinion is received.

Under Article 3, Section 8, of the 1963 State Constitution, either the Legislature or the governor may seek a special, high court review of an issue on a "solemn occasion."

No ruling, however, can come until the legislature commits itself to finally passing the bill, a request can be made before the bill is allowed to become law or take effect. In the case of the school aid bill, the effective date is July 1—the start of the new fiscal year, but only one month before first payments must be issued to local school districts.

The stipulation of a court review marks the latest in a series of House votes that have affirmed an earlier 56-54 support for the concept but indicate a serious concern over further political or fiscal ramifications.

U.S. Rejects Soviet Middle East Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has written Soviet Premier Alexsei Kosygin rejecting Russian charges that the United States has fueled the increased Middle East fighting.

In a letter dispatched Wednesday to Moscow, Nixon said the United States is urging both Israel and the Arab states to follow a United Nations cease-fire resolution and end the battles.

Asks New Talks
The President also called anew for discussion with the Soviet Union on a Middle East arms limitation, and asked for what U.S. officials described as a constructive response from Russia to American proposals made last October and December for an Israeli-Arab settlement.

Nixon's letter was a reply to a personal message from the Soviet premier last Saturday reportedly blaming the United States and Israel entirely for the present mounting violence in the years-long Middle East conflict.

Not Made Public
State Department officials said Kosygin suggested in his message the Soviet Union intends to supply the Arab states with additional arms if Israel does not halt its military action.

Nixon's letter, like Kosygin's, was not made public but a summary provided by State Department officials rejected the allegation of one-sided responsibility and said in effect action to stop the fighting must be taken by both sides.

Administration sources described the Nixon reply as restrained, nonpolemical, firm and positive.

Facts Restated
Nixon concluded his letter with a restatement of the view he expressed Jan. 25 in a message to a meeting of American

Accused Chief Sets Work Aside

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — William P. Ellenburg—who resigned Wednesday as Cleveland police chief over allegations that he accepted Mafia bribes in Detroit over six years ago—says he has no immediate plans.

Ellenburg has strongly denied the accusations by Detroit attorney Lawrence Burns, who was printed by the Detroit Free Press and Cleveland Plain Dealer last weekend.

The 50-year-old Ellenburg said "I have no plans until I regroup my forces. I've got my family and my children. I've got to go back to work."

Ellenburg took the Cleveland job in late January and was the third chief to serve in the 26-month-old administration of Mayor Carl B. Stokes, who called Ellenburg "a victim of unproven accusations."

Stokes named Inspector Lewis Coffey, 58, as head of the city's 2,000 man department. Coffey joined the Cleveland force in 1935.

Burns alleged in the published stories that Ellenburg and other Detroit policemen shared in Mafia bribes to protect an abortion clinic. Burns said the bribes averaged $1,000 a month and were paid from 1959 to 1963.

Also Wednesday, George Bloomfield, deputy chief of detectives in Detroit, voluntarily removed himself from all administrative duties pending an investigation into the charges. Bloomfield was named by Burns as among the policemen sharing funds.

Bloomfield has vigorously denied the accusations.

Stokes said he gained "no new information" in a day of personal investigation into the matter Tuesday in Detroit.

"I wish to repeat that I categorically deny the allegations made against me," Ellenburg said Wednesday. "I realize, however, that these charges, until cleared, would seriously impair my effectiveness."

Jewish leaders that the United States intends to provide support for the security of friendly countries in the area.

The U.S. government is presently considering a reported request from Israel for about 100 fighter planes on favorable credit terms.

Nixon told a news conference last Friday he will make a decision in the light of what he considers to be Israel's needs for more armament within 30 days.

Officials said the U.S. efforts to bring about restoration of a United Nations cease-fire began in recent weeks and are continuing. So far, these efforts have had no known effect on the pattern of conflict developing for many months.

SAM Missile Sites Blasted; Cease-Fire Set

SAIGON (AP) — American fighter-bombers attacked SAM missile sites and anti-aircraft guns in North Vietnam Monday for the second time in less than a week, the U.S. Command announced tonight.

No American aircraft were hit, the command said. In the encounter on Jan. 28, an F105 fighter-bomber and a rescue helicopter were shot down and eight Americans were missing.

The Americans disclosed the air activity over North Vietnam shortly after allied forces halted offensive operations for a 24-hour cease-fire for Tet, the Vietnamese lunar new year celebration. The allied truce began 11 hours after a four-day cease-fire proclaimed by the Viet Cong.

The U.S. Command said the circumstances of the attacks on the North Vietnamese batteries Monday were the same as those the previous week: The North Vietnamese fired on American reconnaissance planes over the North.

The attack Monday occurred "over North Vietnam near the Laotian border in the Ban Karai Pass area 30 miles west-southwest of Dong Hoi," the command said. This is about 20 miles north of the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam.

On Wednesday North Vietnam charged that waves of U.S. jet planes repeatedly attacked a number of populated areas on Monday in Quang Binh Province, the same province where the U.S. Command reported the attack on the anti-aircraft sites.

Offers Reward Of $25 Million For Smogless Car

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Legislation providing a $25 million reward for perfection of the first mass-produced smogless automobile was introduced Wednesday by Sen. Nicholas C. Petrie.

The money would be paid after the California Air Resources Board certified the auto produced no air pollutants.

The prize money would be raised from state gasoline taxes. The bill specifies that any type of powered car, such as steam, gasoline or electric, is eligible.

Welfare 'Myths' Detailed In Report To Clergymen

By JEAN WORTH
Of Panax Newspapers

It would be easier for welfare workers to help the troubled, they believe, if the public understood the problems of the needy better.

The persons attending the annual Upper Peninsula Clergy Conference at Northern Michigan University were given a rundown on some of these problems by Michael Mahon of the Marquette-Alger-Delta Community Mental Health Center's office in Escanaba.

He ticked off these "myths" about social services and the "facts" that prevail:

Myth: Most people on relief could earn their living if they had more initiative.

Fact: More than 90 per cent of U.S. people dependent upon public assistance are unemployable: 60 per cent are under working age, 15 per cent are retired elderly, 9 per cent are disabled, 3 per cent are employable men with low skills and little schooling; 14 per cent are single parents who must care for children.

Myth: A family can live comfortably on a Michigan welfare budget.

Fact: Payments average 73 cents a day per person, excluding rent. Typical Aid to Dependent Children family (mother and three children) receives $173 a month for food, clothing and household supplies, $60 for rent, $25 for utilities, for total of $258 compared with $163 in 1967. For most, say welfare workers, inadequacy in cash payments results in deficient diets, insufficient clothing and sub-standard housing.

Jobs Are Scarce

Myth: Many people prefer "welfare" as an easy way of life without work.

Fact: When low skill jobs are plentiful, the number of employable welfare recipients goes down. More than 30 per cent of all ADC mothers in the U.S. go to work on low paying jobs despite the fact that this income is deducted from their welfare checks, says U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Myth: Employable relief clients would find jobs if they really wanted work.

Fact: This was true for many years, but the Department of Labor indicates a steady decline

U.P. Payments

The State Department of Social Services reports that for the two-year period, July, 1966 to June, 1968, it had 11,325 recipients of social services (welfare assistance) in the 15 counties of the Upper Peninsula and spent $7.1 million on them. Other welfare spending for health and other services substantially increased this amount.

The 2,814 recipients of Old Age Assistance got $2 million. The 1,525 cases of Aid to Dependent Children gave help to 4,697 children in the amount of $2.9 million. The 122 blind got $11,469. The 1,143 disabled got $1 million. The 1,023 cases of direct relief got a total of $879,081.

in low skill job opportunities. While the demand for professional and skilled labor cannot be filled, there are more unskilled job seekers than there are jobs available to them. Long term chronic unemployment, primarily among the unskilled, has steadily increased.

Myth: There are many people receiving public assistance who have other sources of income and therefore are guilty of fraud.

Fact: HEW inquiry among ADC families in Ohio in 1963 indicated 5 per cent were ineligible and 95 per cent were eligible; that 42 per cent of payments errors were underpayments and 28 per cent were overpayments. While studies estimate suspected fraud in welfare is between 3 and 16 per cent, compare this to Internal Revenue Service (income tax) fraud reported to Congress by economic researchers in 1959: Percent of income unreported: Farmers 28, small business and professional men 28, wage and salary earners 3, receivers of interest 34, receivers of pensions and annuities 29.

Many Unemployable

Myth: If relief payments are kept low, it will compel clients to seek jobs and other means of support.

Fact: Over 90 per cent of people on relief are unemployable and have no other means of support. Rehabilitation, education and job training become virtually impossible when people are kept at subsistence levels. In Michigan, the budget is often too meager to permit job-seekers to dress properly for interviews or to get from place to place.

Myth: Most children on ADC are illegitimate.

Fact: Over 75 per cent of all children on ADC are not illegitimate. Although illegitimate children are more apt to be needy, they are a minority of children aided in this program.

Myth: Most of the illegitimate children in the U.S. are supported by public assistance.

Fact: Only one in five of all reported illegitimate children receive public assistance. If the unreported illegitimacies and falsified birth certificates were included, the proportion of illegitimate children on welfare would be considerably lower.

Myth: Welfare mothers bear illegitimate children to boost their welfare checks.

Fact: Payment for additional children averages about $35 a month. Thus other members of the family are even more deprived with the addition of another family member.

Adults Invited To Take Part In Evening Classes

There are still openings in the Adult Enrichment Program of the Escanaba Area Community Schools program which will start Feb. 9.

Persons may still enroll in the following courses:

Monday: "Thinking About Marriage," Interior Decorating and Ceramics.

Tuesday: Antique Identification, Comparative Religions, Chess, Modern Math for Parents, Creative Stitchery and Public Speaking.

Wednesday: Drawing and Sketching, Knitting II, Sewing, Personal Typing and Fly Tying.

Thursday: Stock Market, Everyday Cosmetology and Decoupage.

Registration may be made in person or by telephone at 786-4659. Office hours are from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. at the Community School Office, Room 251, Junior High School.

Northern Starts Fund Campaign

MARQUETTE — A campaign for funds for the Northern Michigan University Development Fund will start in the Upper Peninsula, coinciding with an effort, already underway, to contact every alumnus of Northern.

"If Northern is to grow and find its destiny as a great school, it needs support to supplement legislative appropriations," said Thomas Peters, alumni relations and fund director.

"The alumni drive is seeking to establish a pattern of annual giving from all those who have graduated from or attended Northern. We are receiving the assistance of Adams Associates in this effort."

Peters pointed out that in addition there will be an earnest program to stimulate meaningful support for Northern among businesses, industries and civic leaders of the Peninsula.

A final phase will be to seek funds from foundations and larger industries outside of the U.P.

City Council Election:

Any Qualified Voter Eligible To Enter Race

Escanaba residents who are interested in becoming candidates for seats on the city council in the election to be held April 6 need not hesitate.

For if they qualify as electors to vote in city elections, they are also qualified to become candidates for the council, says City Clerk Don Guindon.

Which means that they must be 21 years of age and over, residents of the city for a specified period, citizens of the United States and otherwise qualified to register and to vote in Escanaba.

They are not required to be owners of real or personal property on city tax rolls.

Prospective candidates or their friends may obtain the necessary petition forms at the office of City Clerk Guindon in the City Hall.

These petitions must be circulated and the signatures of at least 50 electors attached to nominate the candidate for a place on the ballot. The petition deadline — the date when petitions must be filed with the clerk — is 20 days in advance of the election, or March 17.

Voters who sign candidate petitions were reminded by the city clerk that they may not sign more than three petitions, that being the number of councilmen to be elected this spring.

Voters are also advised that if they are not registered to vote they have until Friday, March 6, and if that deadline passes they will be unable to vote in the April 6 city election.

Three of the five members of the city council have terms expiring this spring.

They are Edward J. Cox, who is completing a full elected term; Richard Pryal and Miles Dupue, who are completing terms as appointees to fill vacancies caused by the resignation of H. George Nelson.

State To Pay

$9,598,240,000

Michigan taxpayers will be required to pay approximately $9,598,240,000 in federal taxes as their share of the cost of the Federal spending budget of $200.8 billion proposed by President Nixon for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1970, according to Harry R. Hall, president of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce.

This estimate was based on the State Chamber's calculations that Michigan taxpayers bear 4.78 per cent of all Federal taxes.

The State Chamber pointed out that any change which Congress may make in this budget will reduce or increase the amount that Michigan taxpayers will have to bear depending on whether Congress cuts or spends more.

Hall said the share which would be borne by Michigan taxpayers to support the President's proposed budget is 4.4 times the amount of State taxes collected last year to finance State operations.

VFW Post Nears 400-Member Goal, To Meet Monday

Hiawatha Post 2998 VFW will meet Monday night at 8 at the post's clubroom.

Membership Chairman Mark DeGrand reports the total for the year has reached 380, only 20 short of the goal of 400 set last fall. Commander Marvin Ducheny is still hoping to reach the 400 mark this month and asks all delinquent members to pay their dues so the post can reach its projected goal.

Following the meeting Monday, post members will be able to see movies relative to child molestation conducted by the Escanaba Police Department.

The films are gifts of the VFW to the police department for which the post received a citation from the department recently.

Bridge Traffic Up 28 Per Cent

ST. IGNACE — If January is any indication, an accelerated payoff of Mackinac Bridge indebtedness may be possible in the 1970s, said Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority.

"We were pleasantly surprised to see January traffic up 28.2 per cent over a year ago, from 39,351 to 50,429 crossings," he said "This was the fourth largest monthly percentage increase ever recorded at the Straits."

January revenues, including $87,045 from the $3,500,000 legislative allotment to subsidize fares, were up 11.7 per cent from $166,865 to $186,130.

"While one month, particularly during the winter when traffic is comparatively light, does not always indicate the annual trend, we are optimistic that the fare reduction inaugurated a year ago will continue to stimulate substantial increases in bridge traffic," said Brown.

Area Students On Dean's List

Over 1,700 scholars at Western Michigan University have been named to the Dean's list as the result of their high grades during the fall semester.

A total of 1,718 students recorded a grade point average of 3.5 or higher out of a possible 4 points while enrolled in at least 14 credit hours of class work.

Ticket sales promotion for the Players de Noc production of "The Odd Couple" is keyed to Valentine's Day, with gifts of 10 pairs of tickets to be presented on Valentine's Day, Feb. 14.

"The Odd Couple," Broadway comedy and successful movie, will be presented by the Players at the Terrace on Feb. 23, 24, 26, 27 and 28. The public is invited to participate in the promotion by registering at either the Fair Store or the Big Boy Restaurant by Valentine's Day.

Helping "kick-off" the event are Mrs. William Curtis and Miss Penelope Jensen, who are appearing in their first production for Players de Noc, Inc. Mrs. Curtis is a graduate of Holy Name High School, where she appeared in two stage productions, "The Importance of Being Earnest" and "Seventeen." The Curtis' have an eight-month old son and Mr. Curtis is employed by the Escanaba Paper Co. He will work with the sound crew for the production.

Mrs. Curtis is the sister of Harold Olson who is co-starring with Richard Hanson in "The Odd Couple."

Miss Jensen is also originally from Escanaba. While in the Women's Army Corps from 1966 until November 1969, she served as Entertainment Specialist 4th Class assisting in the production of variety shows for military personnel. An experienced singer and dancer, Miss Jensen has also worked in most areas of the theatre in her tours of the Southern states of 3rd Army area posts.

"The Odd Couple" tickets are $2 each and are on sale now at Gust Aspi's, The Terrace, Wolverine Discount, Anderson-Bloom Clothing, Photo-Offset Printing, First National Bank, Gladstone; First National Bank, Escanaba, all three locations.

Season ticket holders use Stub 2 in exchange for a show ticket. Dinner reservations may be made for the nights of the show by calling The Terrace.

Red Cross Aids Local Servicemen

The Delta County Red Cross office sent letters to six men just going into the armed services informing them of the services of the Red Cross to them and their families in January.

Twenty-six active servicemen were helped in various ways; verification of emergency leave, request for extension of leave, birth announcement to father overseas, health and welfare reports on servicemen or one of the family, counseling in family problems, or aiding those who needed allotment papers filled out and hardship discharge.

Seven donors were called in for emergency blood donations at St. Francis Hospital and there were 48 pints of blood used at St. Francis Hospital. Fifteen pints were replaced for Delta County patients at other hospitals.

One of our local industries is planning a first aid program for their employees and 150 first aid books were obtained for them.

Stock Market Traders Trigger-Happy Bunch

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Some stock market traders today are like deer hunters who, having crouched all day in the woods, anxious, cold and with dusk approaching, fire at any movement.

It is, in other words, a very nervous stock market these days, a market anxious to get something in its sights, to promote some action, not so much to bring home a trophy as to destroy the boredom.

Into this setting, Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy on Feb. 3 delivered a statement that really should have settled to earth as silently as a withered leaf falling into new snow.

Instead, it crashed through the brush with a racket that the anxious stock traders instinctively interpreted as nothing other than a rampaging bull.

Trigger fingers reflexed and shots went off from every direction and in almost every direction. The Dow Jones industrial average shot up from a minus position to plus 18 before settling back to 11.02.

Kennedy's statement was really rapid. He did tell a savings bond campaign meeting that lower interest rates may be nearer than many people think they are, but from there on he toned down his statement.

When will rates be lowered? "Once the inflationary psychology is broken and the business community and the public in general begin to look forward to greater stability..." He declined to name a date.

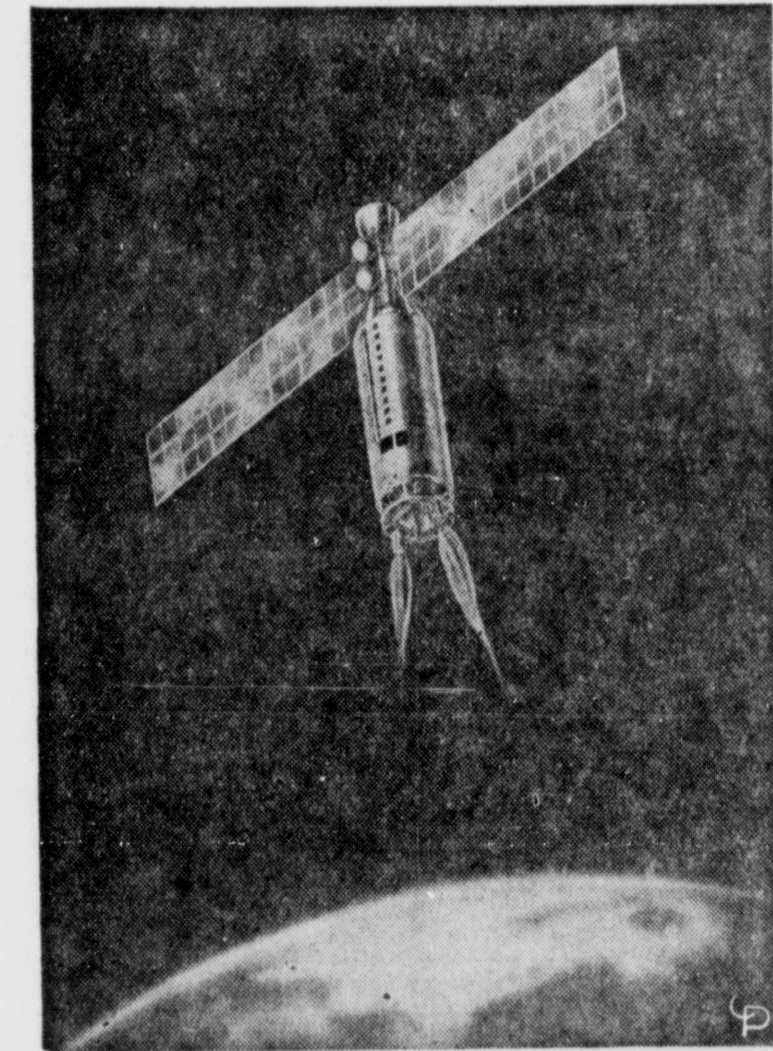

This is something that everyone in his audience, made up mainly of high-level business executives, had heard for several months. It was stated at least two months before by high-ranking officials. It wasn't new.

The executives, whose companies presumably will fare better when borrowing costs come down, hardly stirred as the statement was delivered. But traders, who bet on the futures of these same companies, went wild—even though they got the news secondhand.

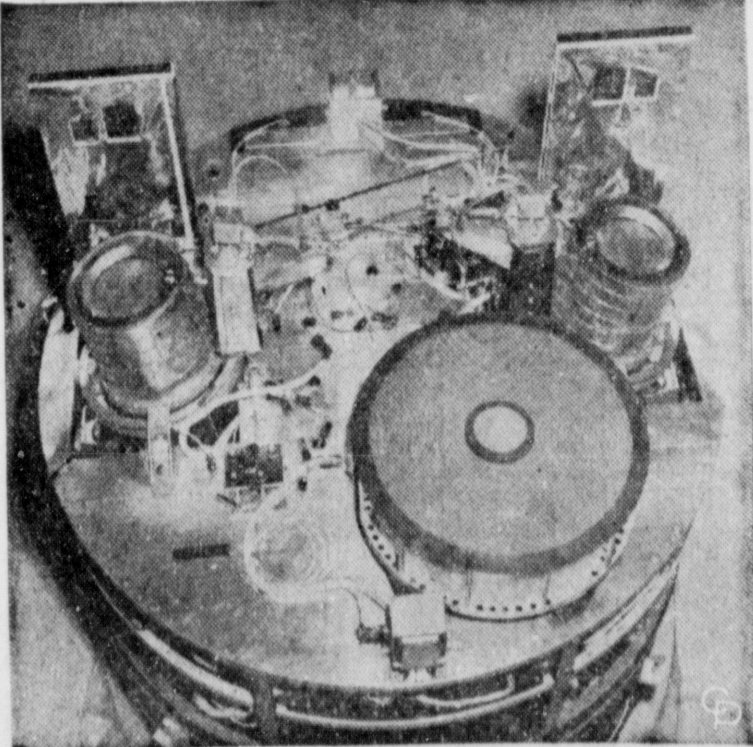

It isn't difficult to reason why. First off, a lot of professional traders have been playing this market short; they have been betting on further price declines in order to make profits. This is accomplished by borrowing shares of stock, selling them at the current market price and then waiting. If the price continues downward, the short trader can replace the borrowed stock at a lower price, pocketing the difference.

If the price rises, however, the short trader has to cover himself, or else he will find himself paying back in more expensive stock. He is, therefore, very sensitive to what might be considered good news.

Some short traders apparently read Kennedy's statement on news wires minutes after he spoke and decided that, neutral as it may have appeared, it might be construed as bullish by some traders reaching for straws. And so they bought rather than risk higher prices.

SERT II — Experiments on the SERT II (Space Electric Rocket Test) spacecraft, built by NASA's Lewis Research Center in Cleveland, give it the appearance of a robot's face. "Eyebrows" are small panels of solar cells which will be measured for any surface contamination in space. "Eyes" are ion engines, small electric thrusters which will operate and be evaluated over a six-month period or longer. Circular "mouth" is a radio frequency receiver and detector which will measure any effect of noise generated by the thrusters. The SERT II will be launched into 621-mile high polar orbit.

Edie Adams Tossed Coin To Pick Career

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — In her girlhood Edie Adams couldn't decide between a career in music or a career in fashion design.

So, typically, she tossed a coin—and show business won. Now and then she wonders if her life wouldn't be simpler if the coin had made the other decision.

"Show business is really geared more for men than for women," she remarked.

"A working father is one thing—a working mother quite another. There's no one to keep the home fires burning for women."

Edie, the breezy gal in those cigar commercials on television, is one of the busiest performers in the entertainment industry.

She spends about 35 weeks a year singing in the nation's top supper clubs, and also is in steady demand for movies, television specials, and summer stock.

Miss Adams is starred with Don Adams and Don Rickles in "Hooray for Hollywood," a one-hour special on Feb. 26 over the CBS-TV network. In it she gives impressions of some 30 famous movie queens of the past and present, has 47 costume changes—and gets a pie thrown in her face.

She recalled that she hadn't gone through the pie routine since she worked with her late husband, comedian Ernie Kovacs.

She has a daughter, Mia, 17, by Kovacs and a son, Joshua, 17 months, by her present marriage to Marty Mills, a music publisher.

To Edie, life is summed up by the word love.

"It's tough talking to a mirror. Without love you've got nothing. But although I think love I live work."

"I always have to be working hard at something. I suppose it's the Pennsylvania Dutch in me. I'm kind of like the old-time farm women. You know, drop the baby and pick up the plow."

Edie feels her best trait is her sense of humor, her worst trait a failure to follow through on projects.

"I have to write notes to myself all the time," she said.

Exposure Blamed In Death Of Man

NILES (AP) — A medical examiner has ruled that a 72-year-old man, whose bloody body was found outside his apartment, died of exposure to sub zero temperatures.

Dr. John Bruni, Berrien County deputy medical examiner, made the ruling Tuesday in the death of Willie Bryan Carroway.

Carroway's body was found at the end of a 50-foot trail of blood. Police said Carroway had a severe injury to the side of his head and eye but Dr. Bruni said the wounds could have been caused by the man falling against a building.

'Man Of Year' Refused Drink Due To Color

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Air Force Col. Daniel "Chaplin" James was named "Man of the Year" by the Pensacola Kiwanis Club one night and refused a drink in a bar the next by a man who said he had never served a Negro.

James, who commands Wheeler Air Force Base in Libya, was recently appointed assistant deputy secretary for public affairs in the Defense Department.

"I didn't make a big noise about it at the time," he said Wednesday in Washington.

"I was sensitive to the fact ... that it may be embarrassing to the very people I didn't want to be embarrassed. I knew how the people who mattered in Pensacola felt about me."

Jack Horne, owner and operator of the lounge, said in an interview that he denied admission to James Friday night, "because it's always been a custom with us" not to serve Negroes.

"We never have, and I couldn't make any exceptions in that particular case. I couldn't do otherwise and be fair to all my customers," Horne said.

Horne's Torch Lounge is near Pensacola's Navy yard but he said its clientele is mostly civilians—"it's a neighborhood group."

Horne, 56, said military police had discussed the incident with him, but he had heard nothing further.

Laos Military Secrecy Rapped

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department censorship is fueling a backstage controversy with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee over the scope—and the secrecy—of U.S. military operations in Laos.

The 3½-month-old transcript of Senate hearings on U.S. commitments and activities in Laos is still in the custody of the censor.

"I've never seen anything like the hassle that we're having over that transcript," said Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the committee.

It is difficult, he said, to obtain, even in secret committee session, a full accounting of operations in Laos.

The transcript involved covers four days of closed-door hearings before a Senate subcommittee now looking into American commitments abroad.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., the chairman of the panel, has indicated he will not press the censorship dispute at this point.

He is understood to be concerned lest an open dispute now make more difficult the remaining phases of his committee's inquiry. His subcommittee is due to look into the situation in Korea late this month, again, in executive session.

A censored version of the Laos transcript was sent back by the State Department, but top committee members termed it unacceptable.

Hermansville Lake Site Of Snow Derby

HERMANSVILLE — Drivers will be competing in ten classes in two separate divisions during the fourth annual Hermansville Snowmobile Derby to be held at the Hermansville Lake Sunday.

The Derby races on Sunday will climax a big weekend of activity in Hermansville starting with a parade on Saturday at 2:30 p.m.

The parade will be led by the queen candidates representing four schools, Bark River-Harris, Hermansville, Powers-Spalding and Carney-Nadeau. The queen that evening will be crowned at the Snow-Ball dance to be held at the American Legion Hall.

In Stock competition, Class 1 will consist of machines up to 300 c.c.s.; Class 2 from 301 to 340 c.c.s.; Class 3, 341 to 400 c.c.s.; Class 4 from 401 to 500 c.c.s.; and Class 5 from 501 to 650 c.c.s. Drivers will have to wear protective headgear and brakes must be in operating condition.

In modified races Class 1 will be up to 300 c.c.s.; Class 2 up to 340 c.c.s.; Class 3 from 341 to 440 c.c.s.; Class 4 from 441 to 500 c.c.s.; Class 5 from 501 c.c.s. and up.

The entry fee is $5 per machine. The races are all oval races. There will be a powder-puff race for the women.

The senior class of Hermansville High School is conducting a sale of booster buttons in the area. They will have the concession stand at the derby. Area residents are urged to purchase a booster button prior to the derby date.

Entry blanks for drivers are available by writing Gary E. Johnson, Post Office Box 3, Hermansville, 49847, and Johnson will send blanks and answer any questions in regards to the racing events.

Eddie Arnold, president of the William Anderson Sportsman's Club, whose group is sponsoring the big weekend, is general chairman of the events.

Husband-Wife 'Cannoneers' Seriously Hurt

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A husband and wife circus team shot out of a cannon seconds apart Wednesday night and slammed together in a net, injuring both seriously.

Linda Zacchini, 31, suffered a broken neck when her husband plummeted on to her during the finale of the Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey Circus performance.

She underwent emergency surgery at St. Luke's Hospital where she was listed in critical condition. Her husband, Emanuel, 26, was reported in serious condition with multiple bruises and cuts.

Circus officials said the cannon apparently malfunctioned. Linda hit the net first and Zacchini is supposed to pass about 10 feet above her.

Instead he fell short and slammed into her at 50 to 60 miles an hour, a circus spokesman said.

Ushers cleared the crowded coliseum as the ringmaster said, "We're sorry the show had to end this way."

Being shot from cannons has been a Zacchini family circus act for decades.

TOO MUCH CARE

LONDON (AP)—British motorists spend three million pounds (7.2 million dollars) a year on car polishes and shampoos, and clean their cars twice as often as Americans, according to "Drive," magazine of the British Automobile Association.

And most of it is to very little purpose, says AA chief engineer Marcus Jacobson.

Some cars actually become duller when polish is used, and for most cars a regular washing in clean water is sufficient, he adds.

Income Tax For Iron Mountain?

IRON MOUNTAIN — Iron Mountain Mayor Philip Rahoi, stating that "those with the ability should pay," has recommended a city income tax to the city council as an effective means to raise additional revenues to meet rising cost of city operations.

"Give it some thought," Rahoi urged, estimating that between $150,000 and $200,000 additional revenue for the city could be collected in a year through the city income tax method.

Rahoi also recommended that should the city income tax become a reality, for every $35,000 collected, the city reduce its property tax $1.00 per $1,000 valuation. He estimated that it was possible that property tax could be reduced $4.50 to $5.00 per $1,000 valuation through this method.

The city income tax is a move throughout the state, Rahoi said. "It taxes those who can pay, not those who can't. Men in my category should pay. I am concerned with the small wage earners."

"I am only recommending this because we need the money for upcoming pay raises for city employees," he said.

The council can do what it wants about it, but Rahoi warned he would oppose any pay raises if additional revenues are not forthcoming. Mayor Rahoi said in concluding his report on city finances.

What the council will do with Rahoi's city income tax recommendation remains to be seen.

Irving Pettit Taken By Death

Irving Ralph Pettit, 61, of 811 Minnesota Ave., Gladstone died at 12:45 p.m. Wednesday at St. Francis Hospital where he had been a patient for 25 days.

He was born Oct. 15, 1908 in Gladstone and was employed as inventory clerk for the Morley-Murphy Co. He was a member of the Memorial Methodist Church, the Gladstone Masonic Lodge and the Teamster's Union.

He is survived by one brother, LeRoy of Gladstone and a sister, Mrs. Edyth Heslip of Gladstone.

Friends may call at the Anderson-Johns Funeral Home from 4 to 9 p.m. Friday and Masonic services will be conducted at 8 p.m. The body will be taken to the Memorial Methodist Church at 10 a.m. Saturday where services will be conducted at 11 a.m. with the Rev. William Verhelst officiating. Burial will be in Gardens of Rest Cemetery.

School in Greenland is compulsory until the age of 14. Courses include kayak handling and sewing furs.

Carswell Vote Delay Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph D. Tydings says he will force at least a week's delay in Senate Judiciary Committee voting on the Supreme Court nomination of Judge G. Harrold Carswell.

The Maryland Democrat's announcement Wednesday came as Sen. Charles E. Goodell of New York called a news conference for today amid indications he would be the first Republican senator to announce against Carswell.

Before Goodell only two senators have said publicly they would oppose the southern judge — William Proxmire of Wisconsin and Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota, both Democrats.

Tydings' announcement that he will invoke a rule allowing any committee member to delay a vote by the panel for a week apparently means no action on the confirmation until the Senate is in the midst of a Lincoln Day recess lasting until Feb. 17.

Civil rights leaders have been urging the committee to give them more time to search for ammunition to use in their fight against the 50-year-old Tallahassee, Fla., judge, now on the 5th U.S. Court of Appeals.

Carswell, who in repudiating a white supremacy speech he made 22 years ago testified last week that he is not racist, was expected to file a statement during the day in answer to his critics.

The committee closed its public hearings Tuesday but agreed to leave the record open until midnight tonight for Carswell or anyone else who wished to submit a statement.

GOP Consumer Bill Called 'Fraudulent'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bess Myerson Grant, the former Miss America who looks after New York City's consumers, told Congress today an administration bill to allow group consumer court actions is "like balloon bread—substantial at first glance but short on weight."

In short, Mrs. Grant said in testimony prepared for the Senate consumer subcommittee, "the administration bill is a consumer fraud."

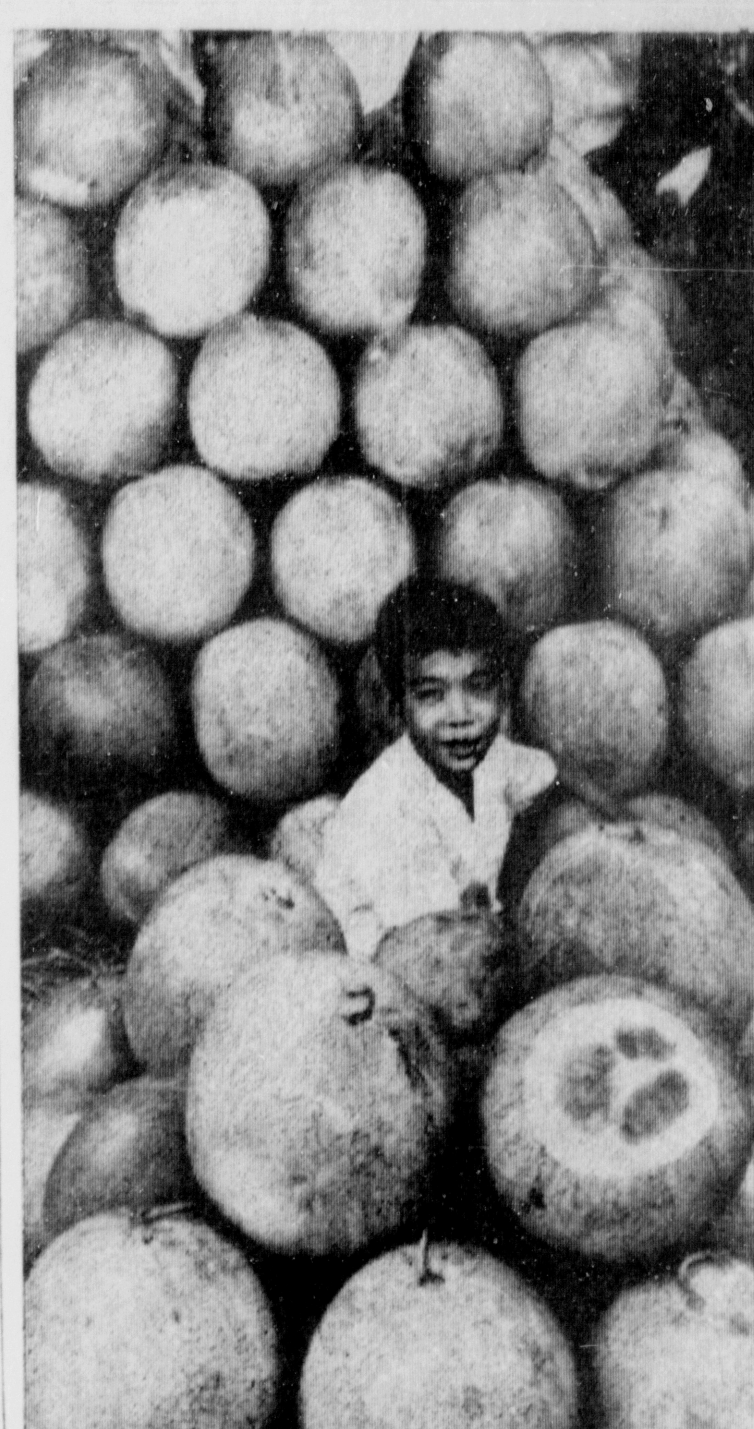

Her opposition was aimed at one of three administration bills that would implement the "Buyers Bill of Rights" promised by President Nixon last year.

The bill is intended to strengthen Federal Trade Commission powers and enable consumers to bring class-action lawsuits.

At the same time, however, it would limit these actions to 11 categories and allow them only after the Justice Department or the FTC had successfully sued the violator.

Mrs. Grant said a bill introduced by Democrats Frank E. Moss of Utah, chairman of the subcommittee, and Joseph D. Tydings of Maryland was far better than the administration proposal.

She said the Moss-Tydings measure, which would permit

TB Tests Given In Washington After 2 Deaths

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tuberculosis tests have been given to 500 Capitol Hill employees after two persons who worked at the Capitol died of the disease, authorities say.

Four other Capitol workers have been hospitalized with TB. Authorities said a waitress in a Senate restaurant and a laborer in the restaurant's storeroom died of the disease. One of those infected also worked in the restaurant.

The other three include a reporter in the House press gallery and employees in the sergeant-at-arms offices in the House and Senate.

The TB tests covered employees in the offices of the sergeant-at-arms and those working in House and Senate restaurants, said Dr. Vedat Oner, acting chief of the TB control division of the District of Columbia Health Department.

Clayton Monett Dies Wednesday

Clayton Dewy Monett, 71, of Nadeau died at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at the V.A. Hospital in Iron Mountain. He had been in ill health for two months.

He was born Aug. 22, 1898 in Big Stone City, S. D., and was a veteran of W.W.I., serving with the U.S. Army. Mr. Monett had resided in Nadeau for 18 years.

He is survived by his widow, the former Nora Frock, whom he married Dec. 6, 1953; five daughters, Mrs. Martin Yancik, Hammond, Ind., Mrs. Albert Peterson, Mountain, Wis., Mrs. Shirley Randall of DesPlains, Ill., Mrs. Allen Maki of Champlain and Edith Monett, at home; two sons, Wallace of Republic and August, at home; one stepson, Stanley Bryla of Scooby, Mont.; one stepdaughter, Mrs. Robert Triest, Spalding; a sister, Mrs. Grace Nelson of Missola, Mont.; a brother, Lester of Tacoma, Wash., 13 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Kell-Tondin Chapel from 4 to 9 p.m. Friday and funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Saturday at the chapel. The Rev. Robert Miller will officiate and burial will be in the Republic Cemetery.

Dow Averages Off After Early Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks wandered lower in early trading today, as losing issues maintained a narrow margin over gains.

The Dow Jones industrial average at 10:30 a.m. slipped 2.91 to 751.58.

Wednesday's market ran out of steam after Tuesday's rally collapsed. The Dow Jones industrial average drifted to a close of 754.49, off 2.97.

The rally had been triggered by a statement of Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy Tuesday that interest rates might be lowered sooner than people realized. Tight credit, as reflected in the Federal Reserve Board's stringent monetary restrictions, has been stunting market gains for the past year.

Analysts said Wednesday that however encouraging Kennedy's statement appeared, it could not support any sustained buying drive without concrete evidence that tight-credit reins would be relaxed.

On the economic scene, the government reported a 2.4 per cent drop in factory orders for December, — the largest decline in nearly three years. This is further evidence that the economy continues to cool.

U.S. Finally Opens Dow Chemical Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government finally opened its case Wednesday against nine persons accused of destroying property in the Dow Chemical Corp. offices here despite repeated demands by the defendants to act as their own lawyers.

U.S. District Court Judge John Pratt permitted the defendants to make statements to the jury, a procedure he noted was something unusual.

Nevertheless, throughout hours of attempts by the prosecutor to get the case moving, the defendants kept popping up to object to the proceedings, claiming their constitutional rights were being violated because they could not cross question government witnesses.

The U.S. attorney, Thomas C. Green, told the jury that his evidence would show that the defendants smashed a glass panel to gain entrance into the Dow office and then destroyed equipment, scattered papers, threw files out of the windows, and spattered some red substance over walls and furniture.

The government claims they were protesting the Dow firm's role in manufacturing napalm.

The director of Dow's Washington office, Charles F. MacGowan, testified that the office, after the raid of last March 22, was a shambles, with expensive machinery overturned, files looted and the whole space in disarray.

Earlier in the second day of the proceedings, Judge Pratt told the defendants that he would permit each of them to make a five-minute statement to the jury.

Several of them did so, and the others said they would

BEHIND the COUNTER with

Bob Krohmer

Tranquilizers have become one of the most widely accepted of the newer drugs, especially those used for non-psychotic patients who experience occasional anxiety.

Whether or not a person receives these drugs is decided by his physician. But while tranquilizers are prescription drugs, the doctor has no control over the number of pills that a patient takes at any one time. If he ignores the doctor's orders, the patient may become "intoxicated" — drowsy, confused and irritable. He has impaired judgment and movement, and has difficulty in thinking clearly. He is more apt to get into a fight, or to be involved in an automobile accident.

Tranquilizers have proven to be too valuable for them to be abandoned because of occasional abuse. They are widely accepted as safe, effective and non-addictive, when taken in small doses. The "major tranquilizers" have been helpful in treating mental illness. Others, who are not ill enough to be put in an institution, can function effectively with "minor tranquilizers."

It is the patient's responsibility not to misuse this (or any other) prescription drug. He should consult his doctor if he intends to drive, drink alcoholic beverages or take other drugs while taking tranquilizers. And he should not attempt to refill the prescription without his doctor's instructions.

Groom 'Rings' Bell Via Satellite Relay

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—With the words, "I do. Over," relayed by satellite, a soldier in Vietnam today married an attractive brunette in Atlanta, after keeping her waiting an hour for the telephone call.

The bride, Phyllis Sheets, 36, wearing a blue wool dress and carrying pink roses, clutched the telephone in the crowded office of Justice of the Peace Neill Leach.

"Do you, Paul D. Hales, take Phyllis Sheets to be your lawful wedded wife? . . . Over," Leach, holding another telephone, asked Hales, a sergeant stationed in Vung Tau, Vietnam.

Mrs. Sheets, a divorcee with three children, works at the Atlanta Army Depot.

At Vung Tau, the 28-year-old Hales had a buddy serving as best man.

Substitute

CWO Theron McElwaney of nearby Ft. McPherson, substituted as best man in the Atlanta part of the ceremony, by slipping the wedding ring on the new Mrs. Hales' finger. The rings came by mail last week.

When Leach pronounced the couple man and wife, the new bride told her husband, "Congratulations to both of us. We are married now, darling. Over."

In the absence of the bridegroom, McElwaney kissed the bride.

Second Marriage

This is the second marriage for both Mrs. Sheets and Hales, who met last year while both were working at the Army depot. He comes from Cumberland, N. C., and she was born in Hamlin, W. Va., but has lived in Atlanta for 10 years.

Hales was assigned to Vietnam three months ago.

R & R Honeymoon

The couple plan to honeymoon in Hawaii when Hales comes up for rest and recreation in April or May.

"The day before Christmas I got a letter from him saying we could get married by telephone and you get about half off of plane fares and your hotel fare free if you're the wife of a serviceman going to meet him on R and R," Mrs. Sheets said.

THE ENGAGEMENT of Sandra Oja and Donald Jenkins Jr., has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Oja of Negaunee, formerly of Rock. The bride-elect attended Rock schools and is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kleis of Rock. She is presently employed at St. Luke's Hospital, Marquette. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jenkins Sr. of Negaunee and will graduate from Northern Michigan University in June with a degree in industrial technology. The wedding will take place March 28.

Letter Of Thought

Dear Heloise:

A woman wants her little nest . . .

A man wants HIS woman at HER very best.

Widow

Dear Heloise:

Have you ever tried using a plastic teacup when you serve ice cream sundaes to small children?

They have a handle to hold, and believe me, it really helps. They drink what melts!

Coralie

Dear Heloise:

Here's an idea for the lady who wrote in that her eyelash curler collected layers of dried mascara causing it to stick and pull on her eyelashes:

Spread a very thin coat of petroleum jelly on the eyelash curler before using it!

Not only does this prevent sticking and pulling, it also cuts down on eyelash brittleness and breakage—besides a gorgeous gloss to your eyelashes!

A quick swipe with a tissue after each use of the curler keeps it clean as a whistle.

Mrs. E. R. Key

Dear Heloise:

Did you ever open a can and find that the contents just would not come out of that can?

The vacuum in the can is the reason for this, and many people find it very annoying when they are in a hurry.

The real culprits are cans of cranberry sauce, spaghetti, macaroni, etc.

When this happens to you, just take an ice pick or a beverage opener and punch a little hole right in the bottom of the can.

Shake, and the food will slip right out.

Cupid's Special Heart Winners

Since Valentine's Day comes but once a year, you won't want to miss taking advantage of this sentimental occasion to please your husband, sweetheart, father or other special man. Broil a huge T-bone or Porterhouse steak, bake potatoes and present him with a berry pie fresh from your oven. He'll be sure to remember this red-heart day!

For a special appetizer come Valentine's Day, spread crack-ers with deviled ham and decorate each with a heart-shaped piece of pimiento. Or, serve Vienna sausages in a chafing dish with bubbling cranberry sauce. Cubes of canned luncheon meat and pineapple chunks threaded on small skewers to form kabobs might even shoot some love arrows.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES ANZALONE, 1523 11th Ave. S., announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Laurice, to William R. Peltier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Peltier, 2201 8th Ave. S. The bride-elect is a 1968 graduate of Holy Name High School and Gale Institute, Minneapolis. She is employed by the College Travel Office, E. Lansing. Her fiancé is a 1967 graduate of Holy Name High School and is attending Michigan State University. A July 18 wedding is planned.

Feeding Ducks, Geese Ruled Pollution Aid

By DON VOGEL

PONTIAC (AP) — Everytime man upsets the balance of nature, the result carries a high price tag in terms of resources lost and money spent.

Some well-intentioned people in Southeastern Michigan are finding this out. They feed ducks and geese at lakes during the summer "because we like to have them around" and again in the winter "because the poor things will starve."

In the process they are speeding up the aging of lakes and contributing to pollution, according to officials of the Natural Resources Department.

Ducks and geese causing pollution?

"Definitely," answered Carlos M. Fetterolf Jr., chief of the Water Resource Division's water quality appraisal unit.

"However, the type of pollution isn't necessarily harmful to the health of humans," he pointed out. "It does speed up the aging of a lake by adding large quantities of fertilizer to the water thus stimulating weed growth."

The phosphorus and nitrogen in droppings from one duck are equivalent to that excreted by one and a half humans, according to Fetterolf. Large concentrations of ducks in one area, whether being fed by man or nature, "can really fertilize the place," he said.

"People don't realize they are upsetting the balance of nature when they feed ducks and geese," said game biologist

Elimination Of Lead In Gas Seen As Costly Plan

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Elimination of lead antiknock additives in gasoline would cost motorists an added $3.5 billion annually in gasoline costs, says the board chairman of Ethyl Corp.

In a statement to stockholders F. D. Gottwald Jr. said there is no proof that use of lead antiknocks in gasoline is detrimental to health, and that smog probably would be increased rather than decreased by elimination of the additive.

Ethyl Corp. is America's leading producer of the additive. The U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare indicated last week it may try to eliminate the additive from gasoline under federal air pollution regulations.

Gottwald cited a Bureau of mines study that said unleaded gasoline gives off as much as 25 per cent more of the emissions involved in causing photochemical smog. He said use of lead antiknocks conserves the nation's petroleum resources and that automobiles can be engineered to produce low levels of exhaust emissions when operating on leaded fuels.

Chicago Prices

BUTTER & EGGS

CHICAGO (AP) — (USDA) — Butter Wednesday: wholesale selling prices unchanged; 93 score AA 67.59¢; 92 A 67.59¢; 90 B unquoted.

Eggs: prices paid delivered to Chicago 1/2 lower to 2 higher; 80 per cent or better grade A whites 53 1/2-56 1/2; medium white extras 50-51; standards 49-49 1/2.

POTATOES

CHICAGO (AP) — (USDA) — Potatoes arrivals Wednesday 29; on track 154; total U.S. shipments 215; old—supplies moderate; demand very slow; market dull; carlot track sales: Idaho russets 5.15; new — supplies insufficient to quote.

Howard Greene of the DNR's Pontiac Lake district office.

"The normal instinct of waterfowl to fly south in winter is disrupted by feeding them. In those portions of Southeastern Michigan that are closed to hunting, the ducks and geese become semi-domesticated and those that do fly south become suckers for hunters.

"If the feeding stations weren't in operation, the ducks and geese would spread out on many lakes in search of food—the way nature intended — and concentrated fertilization would be curtailed.

"We realize that people like to see waterfowl in front of their lake homes and by not feeding them more people would have this opportunity. The ducks and geese would move about seeking natural food."

People also are discovering that feeding waterfowl can become expensive, according to Greene.

"First it's one sack of corn or commercial food for a few ducks each month; then four or five as the numbers increase. Pretty soon it's a bag a day."

Winter brings on the largest concentrations of waterfowl. Ducks and geese seek open water, and extremely cold weather the last few weeks has resulted in even some moving water in larger streams freezing over.

Ducks flying about looking for open water naturally gravitate to a spot where other fowl appear to have located a food bonanza. These usually are places where ducks and geese have been fed by man over a period of time and the fowl loathe to leave.

All lakes age or grow old, some faster than others. It may take hundreds of years for a body of water to evolve from a deep, clear lake to a shallow swamp. Vegetation holds the key.

Weeds grow and die annually, decomposing on the lake bottom. The residue continues to build each year until a sand or gravel bottom lake contains muck and silt several feet deep. Eventually the decayed matter reaches the surface and marshland results.

This is what's happening on many Southern Michigan lakes. Septic systems filtering fertilizing materials into lakes have triggered a high weed growth rate in recent years. Droppings from large concentrations of waterfowl add to the weed and algae growth.

Just how harmful these waters eventually will become to human health is undetermined. However, studies are under way, including one at Lower Long Lake in Oakland County where one resident has been feeding up to 1,000 Canada geese year-around over the past two years.

Water samples taken from the lake last fall showed a bacteria count too high for safe swimming.

"We don't know whether the droppings of geese caused the high count," said district law supervisor George Bruso of Pontiac Lake, "or whether there is untreated sewage or an open septic flowing into the lake."

Wintergreen Lake in the Kellogg wildlife sanctuary near Kalamazoo has heavy concentrations of waterfowl and has been declared polluted. Two other lakes in Canada favored by ducks and geese have the same designation.

ANCIENT SCOTLAND

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Archaeologists have uncovered evidence that man lived in Scotland more than 6,000 years ago.

They found on a coastal site six miles north of this university town some stone tools and hearths scientifically dated at between 4700 and 4300 B.C.

Reflectorized Plates Coming

LANSING (AP) — The State Department of Administration has notified state officials that unless legislative action to the contrary is taken by Feb. 19, it intends to go ahead and reflectorize the 1971 license plates with glass beads.

Copies of the letter were sent to the governor and members of the Senate and House. The Senate, in particular, has been concerned about the cost of reflectorizing the plates.

The Senate also has a bill in committee to repeal the law specifying reflectorization of the plates.

It previously defeated a resolution aimed at delaying reflectorization for one year.

At one time, a figure of more than $3 million was given as an estimate of the cost. It was explained, however, this was for the cost of shiny sheeting on the background plus glass beads.

The Secretary of State's office decided to go back to the maroon and white colors of 1969 for the 1971 plates because there were so many complaints about the poor visibility of the 1970 gold and white plates.

George Washington, director of the department of administration, reported the use of glass beads will cost only an extra $205,000.

The plain printed plate will cost $1.28 million. The addition of beads will bring the total to some $1.48 million.

The shiny glass beads will go on the border, the numbers, the date and the legend "Great Lake State" on the auto license plates.

The department said it planned to award the contract to Flex-O-Lite Co. Although it was not the low bidder, the Flex-O-Lite product has been tested, Washington said, and the others have not.

Testing of the other products would further delay the start of production, he said, "and we cannot further delay the cost of production on the 1971 plates and meet the Oct. 1 deadline for distribution."

Washington estimated the reflectorized plates would be approximately 62 per cent more visible than plain printed plates.

"I don't see how anyone can kick about the cost," added another department spokesman, referring to the some $200,000 figure for the beaded plates.

Youth Gets Life For Murder Plot

DETROIT (AP) — A 17-year-old school dropout convicted of assault with intent to murder a teacher was sentenced to life in prison Wednesday.

Derek E. Wright of Detroit was sentenced by Recorder's Court Judge Robert J. Colombo.

The wounded teacher testified at the trial that June 9 as she got out of her car at Nichols Elementary School in Detroit he asked her for a match and she replied she had none.

Suspension?

LANSING (AP) — Possible revocation or suspension of the cemetery license held by Peace Memory Gardens of Flint will be the topic of a public hearing Feb. 24 in Lansing. The cemetery failed to deposit $32,581 into an endowed care trust fund, said the Michigan Cemetery Commission, which had ordered the deposit last November.

Meanwhile, the commission announced that the cemetery salesman's license held by E. Wayne Michael of Flint has been revoked because he made a false statement on his license application.

Black Separatist Education Plan On Shaky Ground

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Four months after opening its doors, an experiment in black separatist education called Malcolm X Liberation University is beset by controversy and pressed for funds. But its founder isn't giving up.

"We're planning now for another year of operation or maybe two more years," says Howard Fuller, a 29-year-old former social worker.

"With the kind of institution we're trying to develop and the kind of reaction it causes, one can't get too optimistic and think in terms of 10 years or 15 years," Fuller said in an interview. The school was named after the militant black leader who was slain after he split away from the Black Muslim movement.

Fuller opened his unorthodox—and unaccredited—university last October in a converted warehouse alongside railroad tracks in a run-down Negro section on the edge of Durham's business district.

Its aim, he said, would be "nation-building." He explained that as being preparation of Negroes for a separatist society which would exist somewhere in the vague future in an unspecified place, probably Africa.

About 50 students enrolled for training as food scientists, tailors, architects, engineers, teachers, artists, medics, communications technicians, linguists and other specialists "to fulfill the needs of a nation," Fuller said.

Exactly what the classes at the university are like isn't generally known because Fuller refuses to let outsiders sit in.

The school offers no degrees and members of its faculty are not required to be college graduates. Some are not.

Carrying out his stated belief that "anything which affects the black community affects us," Fuller and his aides have headed delegations of Malcolm X students to racially oriented demonstrations in various North Carolina cities.

From the beginning, controversy swirled around the brightly painted red, green and black building with its pair of huge portraits of Malcolm X on the front.

First, Fuller had to cut his plans for a proposed first-year budget of half a million dollars to $82,000. That was all he could raise through grants.

Then, the possibility of getting any more money from his biggest benefactor—the Episcopal Church—dimmed as the Church's North Carolina diocese was caught up in a major dispute over $45,000 given to Fuller by the national Church.

Angered by the national Church's action, more than one-third of the diocese's 138 parishes failed to meet their financial quotas for the new year and diocesan contributions to the national Church were cut by $70,000.

Now, Fuller no longer talks as he once did, of Malcolm X University as a permanent institution.

"We're being realistic and gearing ourselves to complete a three-year program," he said.

Missiles Near Cities Nixed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defensive missiles will not be positioned close to major American cities under President Nixon's plans for expanding the Safeguard ABM system, Pentagon officials report.

The only exception to this, eventually, will be Washington, D.C., because strategists want to defend the seat of the command control over U.S. forces.

Defense officials made the point over missile deployment to counter growing congressional criticism that Nixon has gone back to the rationale used by the former Johnson administration to justify a defensive missile program.

Nixon disclosed a week ago the second phase of Safeguard plans would proceed this year to provide the United States with area defense against any potential Red Chinese threat over the next 10 years.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield Wednesday accused Nixon of shifting arguments on Safeguard and opening a credibility gap.

Under the Johnson administration, the antiballistic missile system, then called Sentinel, would have been deployed around big population centers to protect them from a possible Red Chinese attack later in this decade.

The new Safeguard program begun by Nixon centered around U.S. offensive missile sites to protect them from a growing force of Soviet SS9 rockets.

Indian Training Session Under Way

HARBOR SPRINGS (AP)—A three-day Indian leadership management training session opened in this Emmet County community today.

The program by Bemidji State College's Indian Community Action Project is for 30 tribal councilmen and project staffers.

Speakers at the sessions include: Leham L. Brightman, director of the University of California's Department of Indian Studies; Will Antell, Minnesota State director of Indian Education and Michigan Rep. Robert W. Davis.

Irate Senators Rap Justices' 'Robbery' Plan

LANSING (AP) — The cost of setting up offices for Michigan Supreme Court justices brought cries of "Brennan's bandits" and accusations of "highway robbery" from state senators Wednesday.

Several irate members of the Senate criticized Chief Justice Thomas Brennan and his fellow justices for committing some $197,000 more than the Legislature authorized for the offices.

Postponed until Monday was discussion on a bill boosting the maximum amount small loan companies may lend from the current $1,000 to $3,500.

Sen. John McAuley, D-Wyandotte, brought up the question of court spending on the floor Wednesday, calling it "legalized robbery without a gun."

Senators noted that the Legislature authorized $94,000 for the offices the justices are to occupy until Michigan's new State Capitol is completed in some five years. The justices recently moved from their capital chambers to quarters in a new building in the capitol complex.

"There is a serious question of division of powers under the constitution," said Sen. Coleman A. Young, D-Detroit. "Only the Legislature has the right to appropriate."

"It seems the court has taken to writing checks," Young continued.

"If the function of the Supreme Court is to protect the people under the Constitution, who protects to people from violation of the Constitution by the Supreme Court?"

Sen. Basil Brown, D-Detroit, an attorney, suggested that the Legislature and executive branch of government act as checks and balances for the judiciary.

"My complaint is not with the amount," Brown added. "My quarrel is the manner in which this was done. I think the court should be reminded the Constitution applies to them too."

Federal Grant

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William Milliken has announced approval of a $65,002 federal anti-poverty grant to Monroe County Economic Opportunity, Inc., for a year Headstart program. The funds are expected to allow enrollment of some 60 disadvantaged youngsters in a program to be housed in public schools and a church in Monroe County.

Kaiser Jeep, AMC To Merge

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. joins the $1 billion a year sales club today with the scheduled signing of papers completing the $70 million acquisition of Kaiser Jeep.

The action was approved Wednesday by AMC stockholders at the annual meeting in Detroit.

The acquisition of Kaiser Jeep is expected to give AMC more depth and wider markets. A major source of income for Jeep has been government contracts and AMC board Chairman Roy Chapin Jr., pointed out that the firm has more than

Despite the infusion of the Kaiser Jeep business into the AMC balance sheet, the firm reported a net loss of $15.7 million or 64 cents a common share for first quarter operations.

Sales, crippled by a lengthy strike, were off noticeably from year earlier figures. Total first quarter sales (AMC-Jeep) were $238.8 million. However, sales of the automaker alone for the first quarter were $142.9 million compared to $203.4 million in the same quarter of 1969. AMC's fiscal year ends Sept. 30.

In other business the stockholders approved a management nominated slate of directors and approved the increase of authorized capital stock from 30 million to 40 million shares.

James Greer, of Milwaukee, who identified himself as an employee and a stockholder, complained during the meeting of alleged discriminatory practices at Milwaukee Plant No. 6. AMC President William Luneburg said, "Admittedly things can't be changed overnight, but I don't think we can be accused of dragging our feet."

To Open Bids

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department will open bids Feb. 19 in Lansing on seven highway construction and maintenance projects in 10 counties estimated to cost a total of $5.4 million. Major projects include $2.5 million for relocation and reconstruction of 16 miles of M 61 in Clare County and $1.1 million for reconstruction of eight miles of M 44 in Ionia County.

Outdoor Sports

By Bob Gregg

The first substantial run of adult coho salmon was probably the biggest fishing spectacular for 1969 in our area of the U. P. Yet another fishing phenomenon happened last year that also came as a pleasant surprise.

Anglers fishing for coho near the mouth of the Whitefish River began to catch huge brown trout weighing between 6 and 12 pounds. Hundreds of the remarkably stout browns swarmed along the shore of Little Bay de Noc from Gladstone to Garth Point.

These browns are without doubt, the result of a 1967 DNR planting of 25,000 browns dumped about a half mile off Kipling. This is a small planting compared with 150,000 coho, but it proved that substantial plantings of brown trout can provide an excellent fishery in Little Bay de Noc and its feeder streams.

Following stocking in 1967 the browns virtually disappeared. Commercial fishermen came across a few in their nets and every now and then some angler would catch a straggler, but the fishing wasn't sensational by any means.

In September of 1968 brown trout began to show up in abundance in Little Bay de Noc. In a lift of a pound net off Hunters Point of the Stonington Peninsula, DNR biologists counted 40 big, sassy brown trout, all in the four-pound class.

The browns are fall spawners and were probably moving into the shoreline looking for streams in which to spawn.

One trouble with these lunker trout is that they are difficult to catch and even anglers who have been lucky enough to get right in the middle of a feeding school of fish find it hard to get a bite.

The best was still to come. By April some steelhead fishermen angling in the Days and Bark Rivers picked up an occasional brown weighing around 7 pounds. It's believed these fish were from the Little Bay de Noc plant.

Usually wary, the greedy fat browns were so intent with filling their bellies that they became easy prey for spring fishermen.

The action for browns didn't get hot, however, until fall when the big fish started to congregate near the mouths of such rivers as the Days, Whitefish and Bark. Many of these lunkers were taken by salmon fishermen at these spots.

River anglers caught several big browns in the streams already mentioned using spinners, spoons and spawn sacks. At times the fishing was excellent for these trophy trout.

I know, I caught three big lake-run browns weighing 16, 8 and 7 pounds within one hour last fall fishing in the Days River near the Soo line railroad bridge above U. S. 2.

The Days was full of big browns last fall, but fishermen didn't go after them. I've been told hundreds of monster browns were caught by fall fishermen angling along the bay shore in an area running from behind Marble Arms to a spot across from Larry's Bar.

Ice fishermen are currently catching many nice-sized browns on wigglers and minnows.

Come next spring the big trout will be cruising close to shore and on a heavy feed. At that time they should be fairly easy to catch. Try using medium-sized spinners in the Koping area.

Coho salmon provide a nice fishery in the fall, but they leave a gap in fishing. More brown trout stockings in Little Bay de Noc can supply excellent year 'round angling, but the DNR doesn't seem to have any browns to stock because their hatcheries are full of salmon.

Annual Grid Clinic Slated April 10-11

Directors of the Escanaba Football Coaches Clinic have announced that April 10 and 11 will be the dates of their seventh annual spring football coaches clinic, an event which promises to attract most high school coaches in Upper Michigan and Northeastern Wisconsin.

Last year, more than 130 coaches attended the two-day clinic, which has featured consistently fine speakers and entertainment each year.

The 1970 clinic will be co-sponsored by the Escanaba Area Coaches and Valley School Supplies Co. of Appleton, Wis. Jerry Cvenegros, head mentor at Escanaba Area High School, is the general director, while Bob Dufour of Holy Name serves as the Social Chairman. Valley School Supplies has recently entered the sporting goods field and is headed by former Green Bay Packers Bob Skoronski.

This year's panel of speakers is headed by Edmund "Zeke" Bratkowski, an assistant coach with the Packers. Bratkowski, a former quarterback, will speak on the Packers' fine off-season conditioning program.

Rolie Dotsch, head football coach at Northern Michigan University, will share top billing with Bratkowski on Friday night, while Ted Kearly and Jim Kapp of Michigan Tech will handle the Saturday morning speaking chores.

The popular spring clinic will also feature a Saturday buffet and the usual array of fine door prizes. All sessions will again be held at the Terrace Motel and Supper Club.

Fans wishing to attend any of the sessions may pay their registration fee at the door. Further information may be obtained by writing the clinic directors in Escanaba.

The Tiger entry in the Florida Instructional League placed second in their division in 1969. They posted a 25-15 log, three games off the pace.

Key Conference Clashes Scheduled Friday Night

By MIKE UTT

Some real key conference clashes are on the agenda for local teams Friday night in a weekend schedule showing eight games on Friday and a single contest on Saturday involving area teams.

Holy Name will be playing host to the Menominee Maroons and Escanaba will hit the road for a game at Kingsford in two important Great Northern Conference tests, while Gladstone, the front-runner in the Great Lakes Conference, will travel to meet the Marquette Redmen, its top challenger for the league crown. Holy Name plays at 8:15 while Escanaba and Gladstone hit the court at 8 p. m.

Other games on the schedule for Friday will find Big Bay at home against Eben, Rock traveling to Bark River, Trenary playing host to Chassell, Carney at Felch and Hermansville on the road at Republic.

The lone Saturday contest finds Manistique at Rudyard. Menominee holds the lead in the Great Northern Conference with a 5-1 record while Escanaba and Holy Name are knotted in a second place tie with a 4-1 mark. The other three conference members, Iron Mountain, Kingsford and West Iron County appear to be out of the running for the title.

More Strength

The Maroons have added strength to their lineup with the return of Jeff Jackl, who was a starter on last year's Class B championship team. The 6 foot 3 inch Jackl has scored 49 points in his only two appearances this season and gives the Maroons added depth to go with Dan Jacques and Jeff Pecotte, also veterans from last year.

Gordy LeDuc, the Holy Name coach, will be going after career victory No. 101 Friday night after hitting the century mark Tuesday at Manistique. His record going into the current campaign was 91-60, including a 22-19 mark at Powers, 38-8 at Negaunee St. Paul and 31-33 at Marquette Bishop Baraga.

The Crusaders will go into the game with a 9-2 mark on the season, including a four game victory streak. They have been over the 80-point mark in each of their last two outings and a real sparkplug in their offensive surge has been senior forward Dan Young, who has scored 51 points in the last two games to raise his season point total to 191.

Joining Young in the Crusader lineup will be sophomore Bill Skradski, who leads the team in scoring with 193 points; Joe Harvey, the leading rebounder in the conference; and Bob McGinn and Steve Kleiman two players who don't receive a lot of attention but are important to the Crusader attack.

Need Victory

Escanaba will take a two-game winning streak and a 6-5 mark on the season into its game at Kingsford. A victory is a must in this game for the Eskymos since they meet four straight conference opponents before closing out the season. Kingsford had trouble putting the ball through the hoop in 87-37 loss to Holy Name last Friday and they were defeated by the Eskymos 87-63 earlier this season.

The Eskymo offense centers around Tom Kangas, the team leader in just about every department this season. Kangas, who has scored 271 points in 11 games this year, will be joined in the starting lineup by Bob Gauthier and Mike Cousinier at guards and Gene Timmer and Bill Dubord at the forwards, while Rick Brooks will be waiting in the wings to play an important reserve role.

Gladstone took over the Great Lakes Conference lead last week in a rather roundabout manner. The Braves squeaked by non-conference opponent Stephenson 60-58 in overtime while Marquette was losing to Negaunee. Gladstone will have four league contests left after Friday and a win against the Redmen would certainly give them the best shot at claiming the conference crown.

Perfect Record

Big Bay de Noc had to go into overtime before pulling out a 65-62 victory over Eben last week and Coach Dave Pelletier hopes this week's game against the Eagles isn't the same. The Black Bears have an 11-game winning streak going into the game and hold the lead in the Central League standings with an 8-0 mark.

With the conference champion all but decided, Coach John Butrymowicz of the Bark River-Harris Broncos will try to keep his team alive in the battle for second place in the race. Rock is winless in eight league games and is 3-11 in the season.

The two Skyline Conference games, Carney at Felch and Hermansville at Republic, will have little to do with the conference standings, but both the Wolves and Redskins need victories bad. Carney has lost four of its last five games and Hermansville is winless in its last nine outings.

The Trenary-Chassell game and the Manistique-Rudyard contest are both non-conference clashes, but both the Comets and the Emeralds will be out to uphold the area's reputation.

Pistons Break Lakers' Streak

By The Associated Press

The big ones fell hardest Wednesday night as Detroit's Pistons broke Los Angeles' nine-game winning streak and whipped the Lakers 125-109.

In other National Basketball Association play Atlanta beat New York 111-95, Milwaukee downed San Diego 141-123, and Seattle topped Cincinnati 121-116.

The Los Angeles loss plus Atlanta's victory over New York dropped the Lakers from first place in the NBA Western Division.

The Pistons built up a 12-point lead in the second period, only to see it slashed to three at the half. Then Detroit surged ahead by 14 points in the third quarter before Keith Erickson and Dick Garrett kept another Laker rally.

Dave Bing pumped in 16 of his 40 points during the fourth quarter as Detroit snapped a three-game losing streak. Otto Moore added 23 points for the Pistons. Erickson scored 24 for the Lakers, who played without Elgin Baylor and Jerry West, out with injuries.

Atlanta handed New York its worst defeat of the season—ending New York's nine-game winning streak—and moved the Hawks into first place in the West by half a game over the Lakers. New York is still six and one half games ahead of second-place Milwaukee, in the East.

Milwaukee whipped San Diego for the sixth straight time this season, breaking the game open in the second period by outscoring the Rockets 36-20.

With Lew Alcindor on the bench in trouble with three personal fouls, Bob Dandridge picked up the scoring slack in the stanza, collecting 15 of his 23 points as the Bucks built a 65-49 halftime gap.

Bob Rule threw in 30 points and Len Wilkens 24 as Seattle beat Cincinnati for the fourth straight time in as many meetings this season. Wilkens also made 11 assists to move into fourth place on the all-time NBA list with 5,008. Tom Van Arsdale was high for Cincinnati with 29 points.

Scorers Go Wild In College Games

By The Associated Press

It was a basket barrage, no less, in college basketball.

Pistol Pete Maravich tossed in 52 points, Austin Carr and Ken Durrett each 44, John Roche and Tom Daley and Andy Owens each 33.

Roche scored 30 points of his overall total in the second half as he rallied South Carolina to a 79-71 victory over Temple Wednesday night, the 15th in a row for the nationally second-ranked Gamecocks.

South Carolina was down 33-28 at halftime before Roche erupted after the intermission to turn the game around.

"Roche went to the basket more," explained Frank McGuire, South Carolina coach, after the contest which featured a doubleheader at the Palestra in Philadelphia. "If he had gone to the basket earlier he would have had 30 in the first half, too."

That would have given Roche a 60-point night compared to the 52 Maravich canned in leading Louisiana State to a 97-75 triumph over Florida at Gainesville.

Pistol Pete threw in 20 field goals and 12-of-16 free throws to up his all-time collegiate career scoring record to 3,088 points.

Carr got his 44 points for Notre Dame as he paced the Irish over St. Peters 135-88 at South Bend. Durrett tallied his 44 for LaSalle as the Explorers humbled Lafayette 102-73 in the opener of the Philadelphia twin bill.

Daley collected his 33 for Penn State at University Park, Pa. where the Nittany Lions beat Syracuse 103-95. Owens got his 33 for Florida in the Gators' losing cause against LSU.

North Carolina State, No. 5 in The Associated Press poll, downed Maryland 64-54 at Raleigh for the Wolfpack's 16th victory against one defeat.

The Providence Friars upset 19th-ranked Villanova 54-44 on the shooting of Jim Larrange. He tied the score at 41-41 then put the Friars ahead to stay with another field goal. Altogether he tallied 18 points in the Friars' home court triumph.

Duquesne came from behind to beat Holy Cross 82-72 at Worcester paced by Mickey Davis' 25 points.

Virginia Tech shaded West Virginia 76-75, Louisville clicked over Memphis State 77-48, Duke beat Clemson 72-68, Georgia tripped Georgia Tech 74-69 and Ohio U. took Toledo 80-67. St. John's of New York defeated Rhode Island 85-67 in the completion of Tuesday night's suspended game.

All-American Calvin Murphy, usually a high scorer, matched his season low of 22 points, as Niagara trounced Buffalo 98-69. Murphy ran into foul trouble and sat out most of the second half.

Among the small colleges Dave Auten broke loose for 43 points in leading Amherst over Springfield 105-98 in double overtime. Greg Hill and Mike White each got 39 for American International as AIC downed Hartford 118-101.

Russell Named Tops For '60's

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—William F. Russell, the biggest Bill of the Boston Celtics, was duly appreciative—but not too amazed—that he had been named Basketball Player of the Decade in a special 1960-69 poll by The Associated Press.

And the key star and 1968-69 coach of a team that dominated the National Basketball Association in the decade just past, added a bit of typical Russell spice to the award.

Russell's credentials are considerable. The list started at McLymonds High School in Oakland, Calif., and began growing at the University of San Francisco where Russell, an All-American, helped the Dons win 60 straight games, still the all-time collegiate record.

He was also a pivotal player on the undefeated United States basketball team which won the gold medal at the 1956 Olympic Games in Melbourne, Australia.

"Big Six," a tag he acquired because of his uniform number, promptly led Boston to the NBA championship, the first of 11 during his 13-year pro career which included an unprecedented eight straight titles.

That string was snapped in 1967—Russell's first year as a player-coach—by the Philadelphia 76ers. That began the stories that Boston's "old men" had had it.

Instead, the Celtics bounced back to win, squeaking into the playoffs with a fourth-place finish.

In 1963 regular-season games Russell averaged 15.1 points per game, piled up 4,096 assists and hauled in 21.7 rebounds. He added 4,014 rebounds, 770 assists and a 16.2 average in 165 playoff games.

District Court

Daniel J. McAlpine, Rte. 1, demanded examination when he appeared before Judge Charles Stark on Feb. 2 for arraignment on two felony charges: breaking and entering and larceny from an automobile. Examination was scheduled for Feb. 23 and McAlpine was ordered to jail when he failed to post $1,000, or $500 each, on the two counts.

Michigan State Police signed the complaint which charges McAlpine with unlawful entry into a private home in Doyle Township and the theft of a tire and wheel from an automobile on Dec. 31, 1969.

Robert L. Bunton, Gulliver, was sentenced to serve three days in jail and fined $10 and $10 for driving with a revoked license. Bunton also paid $15 and $15 on a speeding charge when he appeared Feb. 2.

Arthur O. Gould, 112 N. First St., was found guilty of eluding arrest in a court trial on Jan. 29. Gould paid $12 and $18, rather than four days in jail, on the charge which was pressed by Public Safety officers.

Bernard Napont of Manistique was sentenced to 30 days in jail on a drunk and disorderly charge.

Two snowmobilers paid fines and costs for operating a snow-machine on a public street. Kenneth L. Wilson, N. Mackinac Ave., paid $15 and $15 while John W. Adams, 212 N. Third St., paid $10 and $8.

Paying fines and costs for speeding were Lawrence H. Guertin, Garden; Robert A. Pontiatowski, Detroit; William C. Wilson, Gladstone, each $15 and $10.

Foster Winter II, Saginaw, and Michael S. Murphy, Royal Oak, each $10 and $10; Michael D. Coger, Bayshore, $15 and $3; Paul Schneider, 115 N. Third St.; Mae Eula Baker, Newberry; Edward J. Sandas, Merrill, Wis., each $10 and $8. James Croke, St. John's, Newfoundland, bond forfeit, $9.

Other cases: Ronald D. Provo, 338 Lake St., and Rose Mary Smith, Rte. 1, failure to have vehicle under control, each $5 and $5; Lawrence Tuttle, Germfask, no vehicle registration plates, $5 costs.

Hospital

Admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital Tuesday were Eva Caron, Robert Deshetler, Jeanne Edwards, Perry Smith and Phyllis Buruse.

Discharged were Ann Bartel, David Bartel, Karin Wickwire, Holly Haydon and Eva Caron.

MANISTIQUE Renewal Of Tax Levy Set For Feb. 13 Vote

Schoolcraft County voters will go to the polls Friday, Feb. 13 at the request of the area board of education who are seeking renewal of a four mill tax levy which expired in December.

The request is for a continuance of funds for school operation, the board has stressed.

Commenting on the request, Denton Nelson, president of the Manistique Area Board of Education issued the following statement:

"I feel our request for a continuance of the four mill levy is most reasonable.

"The cost of education, just like the cost of everything else you buy, continues to go up. You can't buy 1970 education at 1960 prices, any more than you can buy bread or cars or houses at those same prices of 10 years ago.

"During the past several years, Manistique has assumed a role of leadership in education in the Upper Peninsula. We have brought in new programs, built a new building, and made the best possible use of Federal funds that are available.

"We have started programs in special education for our handicapped youngsters who have needed extra help for years. We are trying to make vocational training the strongest part of our training so that those youngsters who do not go on to college are better prepared when their school days end. We have made every effort to continually improve every part of our school system, and I think we have made progress. There is still much that needs to be done, but I think we are on the right road.

"To continue on this road, however, we need the support and cooperation of the people in the school district.

"I want to emphasize that despite rising costs, our millage request on Friday, Feb. 13 is simply a renewal of existing taxes, not an increase. I think it is a tribute to our staff members and to our dedicated board of education that we can come to you at this time, point to what we have done, are doing, and hope to do, and simply ask you, the taxpayer, for the same amount of money you have paid in the past. I would wager that we are the only unit of government you can think of that can point to this kind of record.

"There is always much talk of industrial development and expansion to aid this area, but I would suggest that educational development is equally important. It is an investment in our area and in our children, and without quality education we cannot hope for quality elsewhere.

"It is very simple. If the schools are to continue with their programs, the district needs to continue with the millage. As I said before, I believe it is a reasonable request, and I urge all of you to support the question at the polls Friday, Feb. 13."

Volunteers Leave For Induction

Two volunteers left Wednesday morning for induction into the armed forces, according to Mrs. Ann Jorgenson, Selective Service Clerk.

Both Donald Anderson of Manistique and Ronald Lee of Gulliver were presented going-away gifts from the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post. Henry DeSautel made the presentation. Leaving Wednesday morning for preinduction physicals in Milwaukee were Frederick Reid, Kerry Nelson and Mark Hoedel, all of Manistique; Robert Crocker, Germfask.

Sales Tax Rebate

A sales tax rebate in the amount of $25,868.39, based on $2.89 per capita, has been received by County Treasurer William Cowman. The payment represents the final 1969 quarter which ended Dec. 31.

Distribution to the city and townships will be as follows:

City of Manistique, $14,082.97; Doyle, $1,693.54; Germfask, $1,878.50; Hiawatha, $2,008.55; Inwood, $1,803.36; Manistique, $1,864.05; Mueller $956.59; Seney, $682.04; Thompson, $898.79.

Mrs. Richard Stoll Presents Program At Women's Club

Mrs. Richard Stoll presented a program on handicrafts for the Women's Club at their Tuesday afternoon meeting in Augustana Hall.

Mrs. Stoll demonstrated the making of burlap flowers, decorative bottles and figures using paper mache.

Mrs. J. P. Quick presided and welcomed Mrs. Milton LaPorte as a new member. She announced that 18 new members have been accepted by the club this year. Mrs. William Cowman was appointed chairman of the nominating committee.

A 1:30 dessert preceded the meeting with Mrs. Glen Pawley and Mrs. William Hentschell co-chairmen of the hostess committee.

Music was provided by Laurie Guertin at the piano and Mary Weber at the accordion under the direction of Sister Colleen of the St. Francis School.

Briefly Told

The Great Decisions class will meet at 7 o'clock tonight in the library.

Friday's hot lunch menu at the Manistique Area Schools will feature vegetable beef noodle casserole, pickle chips, old fashioned plum cobbler and beverage.

Two reported larcenies are under investigation by Michigan State Police. Assorted mechanics tools were reported missing from a truck parked at the Inland Lime & Stone Company's quarry over the weekend and a battery was taken from a vehicle parked in the Fairview School parking lot, troopers said.

Ticketed by state police on Tuesday were David E. Scharard, Stambaugh, speeding; Ardyn Gladney, Mobile, Ala., and Andrew L. Gladney, Mobile, Ala., each no operator's license; Marshall Christensen, Wilson, no insurance proof.

Three minor traffic mishaps were reported to state police on Tuesday. At 6:58 a.m. on U.S. 2, Manistique Township, the rear wheels of a semi-truck caught the wheels of an auto driven by Mary Nelli, Rte. 1, while attempting to get back into the proper lane. At 8:45 Tuesday morning on County Rd. 495 in Nahma Township, a car driven by Larry D. Anderson, Rte. 2, Rapid River, slid across the icy pavement and struck a car driven by Rudie R. Jehn, Rte. 3, Nahma. William H. Clark, Cheboygan, struck the rear of a car driven by Alfred M. Farley, 113 N. Third St., on U.S. 2 in Thompson Township at 10:20 a.m. No injuries or tickets were reported in any of the mishaps.

Miss Farral Gola Sorority Pledge

Miss Farral Gola, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gola, West Lakeshore Dr., pledged Alpha Beta Chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta at the University of Michigan, her parents learned this week.

Farral, a freshman in the College of Literature, Science and the Arts, is a 1969 graduate of Manistique High School.

Florida Gold Coast Notes Tourist Slump

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Tourists—and their dollars—were noticeably absent from this Florida Gold Coast resort in January. Why?

Ed Dean, Executive director of the Southern Florida Hotel and Motel Association, insists the slump reflected a "mild recession" in the country "and our industry is the first to feel it."

Other observers advance reasons ranging from the attraction of legalized gambling in the nearby Bahamas; improved air travel facilities to, from, and within Europe and the Caribbean, and the switch in the site of pro football's Super Bowl from Miami to New Orleans.

Whatever the causes January was a dismal month, although Dean insists the slump is only temporary and takes immediate and vociferous exception to reports that Northern tourists no longer come to Miami Beach. During the month, receipts from hotels, motels, horse races, night clubs and restaurants were down considerably, even for a period of relative inactivity on the beach.

Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late president and head of Miami Beach's Tourist Development Authority, blamed the lack of tourists on two things: that January always is a slow month and that the Super Bowl was switched from Miami to New Orleans this year.

Roosevelt and Dean both insist the tourists will be back by mid February and that business will be booming the rest of the winter.

There are those who disagree, claiming Miami Beach would be practically deserted these days except for big conventions and the large number of wealthy retirees who traditionally spend January through March in the hotels.

"The Beach caters to those over 65, principally," says a year-round resident who lives in one of the high-rise apartments that line the bay side of Miami.

Science Awards

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University's two top science awards for 1970 have been granted to Dr. Robert C. Ball, Director of the MSU Institute of Water Research, and Dr. Gerasimos J. # Welfare Fund Hike Shakes Up Lansing

LANSING (AP) — Few issues in the Michigan Legislature are more politically divisive than the high cost of welfare — be it for a disabled Upper Peninsula Copper miner or a youthful dropout in the ghettos of the urban south.

Cost-conscious legislators in the House last year actually voted down Gov. William G. Milliken's massive Social Services Department appropriation on two occasions before reluctantly pegging it at $289 million. They find an even larger dose of bitter medicine in store this year: Milliken has asked for a total of $334 million and offered no consolation in the rationale behind the $45 million increase. Almost all of it, he said, is necessary to conform with new, more stringent federal standards for aid to dependent children, the blind, aged and disabled. As a result, few new programs have been added. Aid to Dependent Children alone requires an increase of $16.7 million to help an anticipated 72,000 families every month. The average grant to a family of four is expected to increase from $200 to $242, Milliken said. In all, Milliken has recommended that family services—child day-care programs, ADC, a new office of youth services—receive a total of $125.5 million. That figure is $3 million less than the department asked, $44 million more than the legislature appropriated last year.

For the elderly, the costs are equally staggering: and counting medical services they amount to $153 million in the proposed budget. This year's total was $143 million. "Medicaid has got to be tightened, even if it means changing the contract with Blue Shield," said Milliken's budget director Glen S. Allen. Accordingly, planned controls will achieve "a gross funding level which will be $10 million below what otherwise would occur," he said. "We may have to tell some doctors, 'you can't charge a family of four $10 apiece for flu shots,'" Allen said. "Maybe you give them a group discount."

GOP Speakers

EAST LANSING (EP)— Gov. William Milliken, Rep. Marvin Esch, R-Mich., State Republican Chairman William McLaughlin and Assistant National GOP Chairman Mrs. Elly Peterson will be among the speakers at a program for Young Republicans Saturday at Michigan State University. Some 400 young party members are expected to attend.

Rate Hike Set

LANSING (AP) — Annual water rates will be doubled for 193 homes in an Oakland County subdivision, under an order issued by the Michigan Public Service Commission. The commission authorized the rate hike by Franklin Knolls Water System for a group of homes in West Bloomfield Township. Rates will go from $40 to $80 annually.

Nevertheless, the Michigan Insurance Bureau recently approved increases ranging from 2.4 to 5.3 per cent for a variety of plans offered by the "blues."

For treatment of the mentally ill and retarded, Milliken is budgeting a total of $213 million, some $20 million less than the department asked, but $32 million more than allocated last year. The cutback reflects an expectation of consistent legislative sympathy to mental health treatment — and substantial increases in the appropriation.

Specific programs include improving dietary standards in state training schools and efforts "to encourage movement of retarded children back into the community," Milliken said. Other recommendations, aimed in some way at improving the quality of an individual's life, included:

—An increase of $3.25 million for land acquisition and renewal.

—A $100,000 fund for the commerce department to develop a building code enforcement program. Another $65,000 would allow electrical and plumbing inspection of low-cost housing.

—A $842,000 drug control program. State Police narcotics units are to be reinforced, but the main emphasis would be on treatment. Federal funds for the project amount to $600,000.

Card of Thanks

Clairmont

We wish to thank our friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness and sympathy in our bereavement, the death of our dear daughter and sister, Phyllis Clairmont. ## Re-Examine U.S. Commitments Senator Tells President Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Sen. Charles McC. Mathias Jr. today urged President Nixon to join Congress in re-examining the nation's international commitments.

The Maryland senator called for the President to support a resolution he described as "a legislative combination of the Nixon plan for total withdrawal

PFC. MICHAEL SIMONS, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Simons, 1204 S. 14th St., Escanaba, recently left for a tour of duty in Vietnam after spending 30 days at home. Simons is a 1969 graduate of Escanaba High. He completed his basic training at Fort Campbell, Ky., and has finished Army motorized mechanic school in Maryland.

Cooperative Campus Living Aids Students

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Men and women honor students are living in a Pennsylvania State University dorm and learning it's better for their brains.

"It proves that smart people can help other smart people get smarter," says Dr. Robert W. Frank Jr., an English professor who is the project's faculty representative.

Fourteen men and 55 women — volunteers whose grades are all A's and B's — participate in the experiment in intellectual togetherness which began last fall. It's family-style togetherness that includes eating, discussing, studying, socializing and entertaining.

There are frequent guest speakers at the coed dorm, with topics ranging from drugs to civil rights to environment. And there are informal student-faculty mixers which Frank says are "head-filling and mind-stretching."

The dorm residents have organized a new class on the history of Western music, for which they get credit. And they plan two other new courses to be taught by teachers of their choice: one on the Czechoslovak political situation and the other on art.

"It is an example of students running on their own, and in the right direction, for learning," Frank says. "We're enthused that it works, and we're going to continue it."

The men sleep on the top floor of Irvin Hall, a former woman's residence on Penn State's main campus of 25,000 students. The girls live on floors below.

"The coed dorm is an important facet of academic life," says Judi Friedman, 19, a broadcasting junior from Redding, Conn. "Other more formal areas in school activities are sometimes frustrating, and you end up learning less."

Stuart Hammel, 21, a speech senior from Reading, Pa., who brainstormed the project and got the administration to give it a try, says, "The biggest thing is being able to interact with people of varied academic interests in a living, unstructured situation."

"It's the idea of having three girls, and three or four guys, able to sit down in the evening and discussing, for example, premarital sex," Hammel says.

"Or to go to a movie Saturday afternoon and come back and discuss it until 4 a.m. because you don't understand it."

"Don't get the notion we're a bunch of eggheads walking around in an academic fog," says Louise Evans, 19, an anthropology sophomore from Portage, Pa.

"I was looking for a higher level of maturity. There are no freshmen and very few sophomores here. This gives us an element of freedom and a chance to interchange ideas with both guys and girls. To me, guys being here helps clear the air. There's no tenseness. We live together in happiness."

Potter Named P&H Controller

Robert W. Potter

Appointment of Robert W. Potter as plant controller of the Harnischfeger Construction Equipment and Electrical Products plants in Escanaba was announced by James A. Mezera, vice president, Construction and Mining Products.

Potter joined Harnischfeger in 1965 following his graduation from Wisconsin State University, where he majored in accounting.

In January, 1968, Potter was transferred to the Harnischfeger Electrical Products Plant in Charlottesville, Va., as plant accountant, a position he held until his appointment in Escanaba.

Dixie Lawmakers Turn Sights On Education Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Deep South senators zeroed in on a major education bill today, hoping to attach amendments that would blunt the drive for total southern school desegregation.

Led by Mississippi Democrat John Stennis, they prepared riders to the $35 billion education measure to legalize the freedom of choice plans once prevalent in the South, but now in general disfavor with the federal courts.

Stennis said one of his amendments would put into effect for the entire nation a freedom of choice plan he said is now state law in New York.

"If public school students in New York should not be bused to overcome the vestiges of a dual school system, the public school students of the South should not be bused for that purpose, either," he declared.

His second proposal would establish it as national policy to have uniform enforcement of desegregation in all regions of the nation.

VA Big Spenders In Delta County

Robert M. FitzGerald, manager of the Michigan Veterans Administration Regional Office in Detroit, disclosed today that the VA spent $1,004,649 in Delta County to add veterans during Fiscal Year 1969. This includes $687,245 in compensation and pensions.

Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson revealed at the same time the total VA funds expended in the state of Michigan during the same period amounted to about $274,262,635, of which $167,212,966 was in compensation and pension payments.

Funds spent in Delta County, FitzGerald said, also included $92,977 for readjustment and vocational rehabilitation, and $123,477 for insurance and indemnities.

Regional office expenditures and hospital operating costs in the state of Michigan amounted to $49,324,901. The VA also spent $311,472 in Michigan for construction and related costs. According to FitzGerald, the VA is the third largest Federal Agency and operates the largest (166) hospital network in the free world, as well as administering one of the biggest insurance programs in the nation.

Nixon, Council Set Urban Meet

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — President Nixon is taking his Urban Affairs Council into the nation's heartland today in an unprecedented step intended to dramatize administration concern for the cities.

The President and council, including nine Cabinet-level members, scheduled an afternoon meeting here with a White House-selected delegation of nine mayors, seven of them Republicans.

Today's focus was on medium-sized cities rather than giants such as New York, Chicago and Los Angeles.

The President and his entourage go from here to Chicago for a Friday meeting with four Midwestern governors to discuss environmental problems.

The meeting here marks one of the few times since taking office that President Nixon has met directly with a delegation of mayors. The President's last such meeting was nine months ago.

It is also the first time a session of the Urban Affairs Council has been held outside Washington.

The meeting comes at a time when criticism of the administration's urban policies, particularly from big-city Democratic mayors, is growing increasingly sharp.

Just last week the executive committee of the U.S. Conference of Mayors accused the administration of departing "from the moral commitments of two decades" in cutting back on urban renewal programs.

Such criticisms were unlikely to be sounded here. Only two of the mayors invited are Democrats and urban renewal was not on the agenda, which was geared to the model cities program and President Nixon's anti-crime measures.

The setting for the meeting was not accidental.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

Judge Refuses To Move Site Of Collins' Trial

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Wausau County Circuit Judge John Conlin refused Wednesday to move the trial of John Norman Collins, accused of first-degree murder in the slaying of an Eastern Michigan University coed, from Ann Arbor.

The ruling came after a closed two-hour session in the judge's chambers. The unusual session was called to hear charges by the defense that Sheriff Douglas Harvey had made it impossible for an impartial jury to be picked. The Defense charged that Harvey attempted to question Collins without counsel while the defendant was a prisoner in Harvey's jail.

Collins is accused of killing Karen Sue Beineman, 18, last July. Miss Beineman was the last of seven young women to be brutally murdered in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area during a two-year span.

Defense attorney Neal Fink charged that Harvey's alleged misconduct would make it impossible to maintain a fair jury because Harvey's deputies would be in charge of the jury.

Three witnesses testified at the closed hearing—Harvey, State Police Capt. Walter W. Stevens and Capt. Kenneth Schultze, commander of the jail.

The judge said a transcript of the hearing would not be released until after the trial ends. He also said he would stand by his earlier ruling that no change in the location of the trial would be made unless it proved impossible to select an impartial jury in Ann Arbor.

The trial is scheduled to begin Jan. 1.

Judge Conlin granted a defense request that a hearing scheduled for Thursday be postponed indefinitely. The hearing is on a defense motion that the testimony of Mrs. Joan Goshe, owner of a suburban Ypsilanti fly shop, be suppressed. Mrs. Goshe has identified Collins as the man she saw with Miss Beineman the afternoon the young woman was murdered.

The defense claims her identification was biased, however, because she was shown pictures of Collins before she identified him at a police lineup.

Collins' lawyer asked for more time before the hearing in order to better prepare his arguments.

After the hearing, Collins struck a camera carried by Al Deneau of WWJ-TV, Detroit. Collins was being led handcuffed from the Washtenaw County Building to jail.

Deneau said, "He got me real good. Right in the nose. He grabbed the camera and shoved it right in my face."

of American forces from Vietnam with the Nixon doctrine to limit American commitments abroad.

Mathias discussed his proposal in testimony prepared for the third and final day of hearings by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on Vietnam-related proposals.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, meanwhile, said he hopes the Mathias proposal will be approved by the committee and come before the full Senate. Mansfield is a cosponsor.

The resolution repeals four past congressional grants of power to the President, including the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin Resolution used as the basis for dispatch of troops to Vietnam.

In addition, Mathias said, it "would declare support for the President's determination to pursue a political rather than a military solution in Vietnam and would endorse his plan for the withdrawal of all American forces from South Vietnam as soon as possible."

It urges the President to seek creation of an international peace-keeping force "to prevent reprisals against any of the South Vietnamese people after the departure of American troops" and calls on leaders of South Vietnam to open talks "designed eventually to produce a new broadly based government."

By supporting the proposal, Mathias said, "The President would reassure the country and the Congress of the depth of his commitment to these goals and dissipate some of the anxieties and misconceptions prevailing in the land."

Soviet-Piloted Egyptian Planes Shadow U.S. Fleet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet-piloted bombers bearing Egyptian markings have kept watch on the U.S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean Sea, U.S. military sources say.

The Russia-manned TU16 Badger bombers are reported based in Egypt where other aircraft of the same type have been sent by the Soviet Union to the Cairo government.

U.S. military authorities refuse to say how they knew planes with Egyptian insignia were flown by Russians, but presumably radio transmissions have been monitored.

The swept-wing Badger can carry air-to-surface missiles and attain speeds of more than 600 miles an hour. But it is highly vulnerable to U.S. carrier-based fighters capable of flying at better than twice that speed.

Israeli sources said the Soviets also are flying an amphibious type long-range reconnaissance plane, the BE6, out of Egypt to maintain surveillance of the 6th Fleet.

However, the BE6 is not considered much of a threat. It is armed only with guns apparently for defense against possible attack and is very slow with a limited ceiling.

The amphibious reconnaissance plane may have been fitted with magnetic submarine detection equipment.

The U.S. 6th Fleet usually numbers about 40 vessels, including two big carriers, and operates in the Mediterranean.
